U.S. is Making Second Protest

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—The United States is making a second protest to the government of Lebanon over the seizure of 41 American citizens from the SS Marine Carp last week.

The Labonese, lined up with the Arab forces fighting in Palestine, contended that the 41 were part of a larger group of Jewish young men enroute to fight for the new state of Israel.

Today Press Officer Michael McDermott told reporters that American Minister Lowell Pinkerton at Beirut had been instructed to lodge "a second protest on the matter, but I cannot go into details immediately since I do not know whether the protest has been delivered yet."

The instructions went out last night. McDermott said there would be more information when Pinkerton had talked to the Lebonese authorities.

Silent on Truman

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 27—(AP)—Illinois Democratic leaders in state convention speeches today were silent on any endorsement of President Truman.

Many of them made no reference at all to Mr. Truman in their prepared talks. U. S. Senator Scott W. Lucas praised the chief executive but did not call directly for his renomination.

Nation's Labor Picture More Encouraging

Hopes Rise for Quick Settlement At Chrysler Plants

By the Associated Press

The nation's labor picture appeared a little brighter today.

These are the developments:

In Detroit, hopes rose for a quick settlement of the 16-day strike of 75,000 CIO-United Auto Workers at Chrysler plants.

The Ford Motor company told the UAW it would be willing to open wage talks June 14. Earlier Ford representatives had suggested its UAW production workers take a wage cut.

The General Electric company, in New York, said it will reopen voluntarily the question of wage increases for 125,000 CIO workers.

The American Telephone and Telegraph company and the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers, claiming 25,000 members have agreed to continue wage negotiations until June 7.

May be a Pattern

Observers in the auto industry expect that the 11-cent adjustable increase agreement reached by General Motors with the UAW this week would furnish a pattern for other contracts with the UAW.

This agreement, they said, might have its effect on negotiations towards a settlement of the strike at Chrysler plants and in the wage talks between union and Ford representatives next month.

The General Motors settlement of an immediate 11 cents an hour increase, geared to the cost of living, averted a threatened strike of 225,000 GM workers. The union's 200-man GM conference and representatives of workers in the plants meet in Detroit tomorrow to consider the agreement which won approval of top UAW leaders.

UAW Cut Demand

In the Chrysler talks, the UAW, for the second time, cut its wage increase demand from 30 to 17 cents. Chrysler has offered an hourly pay boost of six cents and it did not indicate it had increased its offer. However, there was an air of optimism today as negotiators resumed their wage talks.

In New York a spokesman for General Electric said the decision by General Motors to raise its wages 11 cents an hour led G-E to "take another look" at its position that its wages should remain at their present level.

Wage negotiations between G-E and the CIO United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America resumed today after a recess of more than three weeks. General Electric, the nation's largest manufacturer of electrical equipment, has been an outspoken opponent of union pay raise demands, contending they are not justified and would be inflationary.

In the long distance telephone workers wage dispute, a presidential fact-finding board agreed to relay its scheduled study of the contract dispute after the A. T. & T. and union agreed to resume negotiations.

In other labor developments, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and representatives of the anthracite operators were to open contract negotiations in Philadelphia. The present agreement, which expires July 12, covers approximately 80,000 anthracite miners in 225 mines in eight eastern Pennsylvania counties.

Falls From the Eighth Floor

KANSAS CITY, May 27.—(AP)—Eugene Boston, 23, was injured critically last night in a fall from the eighth floor at police headquarters.

His right arm was severed, and among other injuries he suffered fractures of both legs. He struck a railing before landing in a dirt areaway.

Sgt. Harlie Atchison, in charge of the jail on the eighth floor, said Boston fell from a window after being brought to the jail office to use a telephone.

Atchison said he had been arrested on a drunkenness charge a few hours earlier. Boston is married and the father of two children, the second born May 17.

Vote to Ask MacArthur to Testify in U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The Senate appropriations committee today voted to request Gen. Douglas MacArthur to return to the United States to testify on the far eastern situation.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) announced the committee's action at the end of a short closed-door session. The vote was 17 to 2.

MacArthur is supreme commander of allied forces in the Far East, with headquarters at Tokyo.

Senator Wherry (Neb), acting Republican leader and a committee member, offered the motion to request MacArthur to return. Wherry said politics wasn't involved so far as he is concerned.

Quislings of The Red Front Threaten U. S.

American Legion Leader Tells Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—An American Legion leader told senators today "100,000 trained and seasoned Quislings of the Communist front" now threaten the United States.

Paul Griffith, past national legion commander, made the statement before the Senate Judiciary committee. He asked speedy Senate approval of the House-passed Mundt-Nixon bill to curb Communists.

"We have today in our midst the largest fifth column of potential spies, saboteurs, demoralizers, traitors, and wreckers ever seen in modern times," Griffith said.

Aided And Protected

He said the 100,000 "Quislings are aided and protected" by an "estimated million or more fellow travelers, sympathizers and dupes."

Griffith testified the Communist party is "collecting a war chest" of $500,000 in an attempt to defeat the Mundt-Nixon bill.

"Every fellow traveler, stooge and deluded dupe has been thrown into the line," he said.

As the three-day hearing opened, Chairman Wiley (R-Wisc) ruled out "any political speeches"—by Henry Wallace or anybody else. Wallace, third party presidential candidate, has asked to testify against the measure.

Boys Fishing Find Body

FARMINGTON, Mo., May 27.—(AP)—The body of William Goodwin, past 70 years of age, was found in Doe Run creek south of here last night by a group of boys on a fishing jaunt.

Goodwin wandered away from the State Hospital No. 4, where he was a patient, on Monday night. St. Francois County Coroner Berl Miller said he had been dead from six to eight hours. He said there would be no inquest.

Prefers Young Strong Man To a Pension

Woman, Crippled, Over 90, Marries 37-Year-Old Farmer

BRUSHTON, N. Y., May 27—(AP)—A bride nearly a century old settled down today with the "young, strong man" she prefers to a pension.

It was a gay "fusterin'" wedding yesterday for tiny, crippled Mrs. Eliza Murray and 37-year-old Clarence McGee, even though her wedding ring cost only 50 cents.

The lanky farm hand and his bride spent their wedding night at her modest home in this rural northern New York village near the Canadian border. The day was a special holiday for the 500 residents, by proclamation of the mayor.

McGee planned to fix a broken wheel on his buggy so that they could have a honeymoon ride.

They weren't doing a public kissing.

Church Was Crowded

Three thousand spectators crowded in and around the little Methodist church in nearby Moira while McGee slipped the 10-cent-store ring on his bride's finger.

"I couldn't kiss her with all o' these people lookin' on," he said bashfully.

The Rev. Lewis McConnell, pastor, quieted the crowd with this admonishment:

"This is just as sacred as if a queen were being married, or as if the richest persons in the world. Let us keep it that way."

State troopers kept order outside after the ceremony, as the couple made their way through rice and confetti.

Smoothing down her blue and white print cotton dress, the bride declared:

A Happy Bride

"I'm so happy. I never thought we would have a wedding like this."

McGee, who began courting her shortly after her first husband died last February, had little to say.

Mrs. McGee thinks she may lose her old age pension but would "rather have a young, strong man than a pension." She is going to "see to it" that he shaves every day.

She has borne seven children, two of whom died in a highway accident. She lost her left leg in the accident and now has an artificial one.

Privately, Mrs. McGee admits she must be more than 90, but for the marriage license record she made it 80.

Now It's up to Jesse James

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 27—(AP)—The man in Lawton, Okla., who claims he is Jesse James can establish his identity by answering three questions, a Sacramento county man declared today.

Justice of the Peace Toll Narramore of Suburban Fair Oaks, was born and reared at Independence, Mo., center of the James boys' depredations.

He said his family knew the James family well and his parents many times helped hide Jesse and Frank James when the two visited their vicinity.

"If this man who claims he is Jesse can answer these questions," Judge Narramore said, "then I will know that he is really the Jesse James of historical fame."

"First I want him to name the man who operated the horse-drawn ferry across the Missouri river near his home and to give its location.

"Second, I want him to tell me the name of his relative who followed him with the idea of putting him under arrest and claiming the reward money.

"Third question is what month of the year Cole Younger was discharged from the penitentiary, and who the person was who met him at Independence."

Dead or Alive—He's Still Dead

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 27—(AP)—The old question of whether Adolf Hitler might still be alive cropped up again today at a news conference of U. S. Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Clay's reply:

"Even if he were alive, he couldn't be any more dead than he is."

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 27.—(AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has charged Cornelius Sanders, 30, of St. Joseph, with the sale of contraband whisky and Benzerdine inhalers to prisoners at the federal penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kas.

The FBI alleges Sanders furnished the contraband to trusty prisoners when they delivered merchandise here.

Calhoun Man, 102, One of Few GAR Members Still Living

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—The fast-thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic will number less than three score on Memorial Day.

Rolls of the Veterans Administration disclose that as of May 26 there were only 52 known survivors among those who wore the blue in the war between the states.

The youngest is 97-year-old James Crugom of Chicago; the oldest is Albert Hard, 31 Portsmouth Terrace, Rochester, N. Y., who will be 106 next July 15.

No records are kept by the government of Confederate veterans, but their number is estimated to be slightly under that of the men who served in the Union army.

Most of the G.A.R. veterans receive about $120 monthly from the government, a few get less.

The federal government gives no pensions to those who wore gray, but many southern states individually provide for them.

The United Confederate Veterans, Richmond, Va., also keeps their interests in mind.

46 Died Last Year

During the past year death claimed 45 of the Union army veterans. Their number a year ago was 97; in May of 1946 it was 155 and in May 1945 the total was 240.

Most of the survivors of the war that ended 83 years ago last month have passed the century mark in age. They now live in 24 states, several in the south. Missouri and California, two states which had men fighting on both sides, jointly boast the largest list of surviving men who wore the blue—six in each.

Missouri—On the pension rolls are: John F. Branaman, 99, 1003 North Jefferson avenue, Springfield; David Harper, 102, Montgomery City; John Hutchinson, 102, Ava; William Kowazek, 100, Hawk Point; William M. Osborn, 105, 2201 Penn avenue, Joplin; Henry C. Umphres, 102, Calhoun.

File Charges Against Three At University

Former Sedalian Arrested on Serious Charge

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 27—(AP)—A veteran University of Missouri journalism professor was charged with sodomy today as Prosecutor Howard B. Lang, Jr., pieced together what he described as a near fantastic story of "mad homosexual parties" in this college town.

The prosecuting attorney said he had issued a warrant for the arrest of E. K. Johnston, for 24 years a member of the faculty of the university's School of Journalism, after a long investigation into abnormal sex orgies here and other central Missouri cities.

Two other men were held in the Boone county jail on similar charges. They are Willie Coots, a gift shop employe here, and Warren W. Heathman, 35, Rolla, Mo., an itinerant instructor for the Veteran Administration's farm training program.

E. K. Johnston is a former Sedalian, better known as "Emery" during his Sedalia high school days here when he was a member of the Class of '17.

He lived at 710 West Fourth street with his grandfather, E. E. Johnston, then Sedalia postmaster who was also in the clothing business with Emery's father, John A. Johnston at 207 South Ohio street.

Sign Statements

Lang said both had signed statements, implicating Johnston as a principal in what he called a homosexual's "ring" at Johnston's apartment which Coots had shared for the last 15 or 16 years.

At least a score of University of Missouri students and other residents here, Lang said, also are implicated in the ring. No charges have been filed against any one except Coots, Heathman and Johnston but several are being held in jail for investigation or as material witnesses.

Heathman, Lang reported, told a near-fantastic story of "mad parties" at Johnston's apartment and at a cabin near Salem, Mo., in which as many as 30 members of the "ring" gathered to boast of conquest and to indulge in homosexual practices.

Heathman's statement was corroborated by those of others

Thousands Are Flood Victims in Washington

By the Associated Press

Thousands of persons fled their homes in the Richland-Pasco-Kennewick area of Eastern Washington today as flood waters lapped over dikes, flooded several trailer camps and threatened numerous others.

Estimates of the number of evacuated persons varied widely. Benton County Sheriff Harry Cochrane reported earlier that 20,000 persons would be forced to move. Later reports by the sheriff's office, Kennewick city police and State Patrol placed the figure closer to 5,000.

Voice of America 'Amazes'

Angry Congressmen Call for Inquiry Into Subject Matter Sent Out on Air

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—Angered congressmen ordered a double-barreled investigation today into Voice of America broadcasts they say have libeled and misrepresented the United States.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), the Republicans' top investigator, will head one by the Senate.

Rep. Chenoweth (R-Colo) will direct one for the House.

Indignation, anger and amazement were mixed in the congressional reaction to disclosure that the broadcasts have told the world such things as—"New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

The importance attached to the matter was emphasized by the fact that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the Senate's presiding officer and chairman of its Foreign Relations committee, announced plans for the Senate investigation.

Amazed By Reports

Vandenberg said he is "amazed" by reports of the broadcasts. He conferred with Chairman Aiken of the expenditures committee. Aiken named Ferguson to dig into the record.

Wm. Fern Brooks, NBC vice president, who makes an explanation for the company, is a former Sedalian. The family when in Sedalia, lived at 406 West Sixteenth street.

NEW YORK, May 27—(AP)—Rene Borgia, discharged NBC script writer who prepared the controversial "Voice of America" scripts, declared he was not responsible for them.

In a telephone interview, Borgia said "I was told to write them that way. I didn't even sign them because I did not believe what was in them."

He identified Alberto Gandero as the man who told him what to write and said Gandero was head of the Spanish language section in NBC's short wave department. Gandero was relieved of his duties and then resigned, NBC said.

Later, the Senate Commerce committee voted to look into the matter, particularly as it affects private companies. The committee has authority over radio and communications legislation.

That brought on Senate debate over who should investigate. Senator Connally (D-Tex) told the Senate "It is a matter of high international importance." He said the Foreign Relations committee should handle it. Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) took the same stand.

White replied that he feels "very strongly" the Commerce committee should do it because "the most difficult question to solve is that of use of radio frequencies."

Inquiry Friday

Chenoweth said a House Expenditures subcommittee which he heads will start a general investigation tomorrow.

"We have had a lot of complaints," Chenoweth told newsmen. "We want to find out who is responsible for these programs and for some of the script that has been going out at the taxpayers' expense."

Chenoweth said officials in charge of the foreign information program will be the first witnesses.

The programs which stirred up Congress were prepared and broadcast by the National Broadcasting company for Voice of America.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind) read some of the scripts to the Senate yesterday.

Those which particularly angered Congress members were translations of Spanish-language broadcasts to Latin-America.

Brooks Statement

William F. Brooks, NBC vice-president, gave the network's side in a statement at New York last night.

Brooks explained that at the time of the broadcasts "changes were being made in the operational set-up of the Voice of America and as a result personnel was not available to provide English translations so that the scripts could be checked in English." He added that NBC could review only the Spanish texts.

"The supervisor who was employed to review the Spanish texts unfortunately permitted these texts to go on the air in Spanish," Brooks said. "As soon as the matter came to NBC's attention the writer of the scripts was dismissed and the supervisor x x x was relieved of his post."

A State Department official said the department gives the networks an idea of the kind of program wanted, but has neither funds nor facilities to supervise the job. He added that the programs are checked on a sample basis.

The U.S. Family; an Inventory

It's Shrinking, Getting Weaker, Say Nation's Top Experts After Home Life Stock Taking

THREE POINT SIX: Shrinking U. S. family now averages 3.6 persons, symbolized in this photo of a man, his wife, their child—and a teddy bear for the family's other six tenths.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The American family ain't what it used to be.

Wars, depressions, booms and industrial and scientific revolutions have made home life in the U. S. today a wierd and confused kind of existence.

Americans have just been brought up to date on what has been happening to their family life. After months of research, 900 of the country's top experts on the subject pooled their findings at a National Conference on Family Life in Washington.

The conference was sponsored by 125 major national organizations whose leaders decided that it was high time to pause and take stock of what's going on in U. S. homes. It was the first time in history that an inventory this size and scope has even been attempted.

Here are the revealing results, with the key statistics first:

The average U. S. family is getting smaller—from 5.7 persons in 1790 to 3.6 today. Marriages have increased—since 1940 there have been 3,000,000 a year over the average. There are relatively fewer single people today than at any time in U. S. history—only one-fourth of the population 20 to 44 years old is unwed. Divorce has increased sharply, but actual statistic don't exist.

Families are leaving the farm—83 per cent now live in urban areas. More wives than ever before are working outside the home—close to one-fourth of them. Approximately 12 per cent of all families are "broken"—one per cent by divorce, two per cent by separation and nine per cent by death. Oldsters—persons over 65 years of age—are making up a bigger fraction of the population all the time and many are living with their children and complicating normal family relationships.

A significant long-term trend revealed is that within the American family relationships of the various members have altered drastically. In the typical family the grandfather has completely lost the traditional dominance he once had over the group. And father is rapidly losing his current dominance.

The most interesting change is the increasing importance of the wife in the home, the experts have found. She is having more to say about finances and taking a bigger part in making all decisions. And at the same time the teenage members of the American family are becoming more influential all the time in the running of the home.

Many factors over the years have been tending to weaken the family. Prof. Eduard C. Lindeman of Columbia University lists the following as its chief "enemies:"

"Mobility, that is the increasing movement of individual and families; economic insecurity, which renders planning difficult for all and impossible for many; the housing paradox, with the wealthiest nation on earth unable to provide its citizens adequate shelter; changing standards of sexual behavior; inadequate and antiquated welfare services; the decline of religious sentiment; war and the fear of war."

Some seemingly good trends in the U. S. are also challenged as possibly helping to weaken the family. The average school period is being expanded from very early childhood to very late adolescence. Dr. Leslie B. Hohman of Duke University, asks: "Is our present emphasis on love and security attainable in a system where less and less of the education and recreation of children and young people takes place within the family structure?"

George M. Harrison, an AFL official and a delegate to the conference, explains the basic effect the industrial revolution has had upon the family:

"When the industrial era was born, the head of the household became dependent upon income from strangers. He lived in ever larger and larger centers. He moved himself and family from center to center as the demand for his services waned in one and waxed in another. He lost touch with all but his immediate kin. The protection of a larger family group was removed from the small family unit. The protection of a stable, interlocked community was stripped away. As the family became smaller it became less secure."

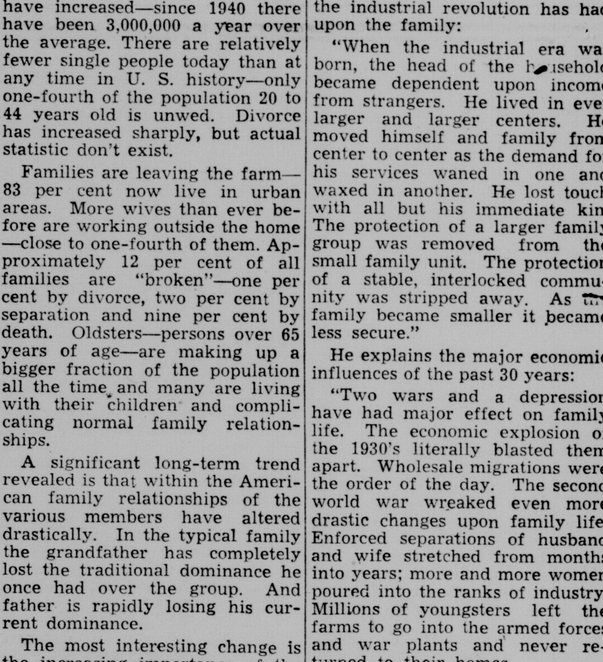
He explains the major economic influences of the past 30 years:

"Two wars and a depression have had major effect on family life. The economic explosion of the 1930's literally blasted them apart. Wholesale migrations were the order of the day. The second world war wreaked even more drastic changes upon family life. Enforced separations of husband and wife stretched from months into years; more and more women poured into the ranks of industry. Millions of youngsters left the farms to go into the armed forces and war plants and never returned to their homes.

The whole trend of life in the U. S. boils down to an equation with two major factors, according to Dr. Lindeman:

"One is the ancient institution known as the family, and the other a civilization which makes it more difficult for each succeeding generation to build strong and resilient families.

These Are the Deadliest Killers



Here's a comparison between the greatest causes of death in 1900 and in 1946, the latest complete figures available. Note that scientists have virtually whipped 1900's Big Three. Heart diseases and cancer are now far and away the worst killers. Diabetes, which does not appear on the 1900 list, was not fully known and understood then. Women Asked to Send In Entries at Once

Mrs. Vivian McMullin, in charge of the Women's Day activities for Re-dedication Week, prior to the coming of the Freedom Train, asks representatives of all organizations to take part in the parade of hidden talent program, to send in their entries as soon as possible.

The Women's Day will be June 6. The train comes to Sedalia on June 10.

Traffic Cases

"Fast driving in Sedalia is going to be stopped or violators caught are not going to find it so easy in police court," Chief Edgar Neighbors said today. Two more defendants charged with careless driving, arrested on Broadway for their manner of driving, appeared in police court this morning and were fined $15 each by Judge Harry O. Berry after pleading guilty.

The two fined this morning were Daniel Boon, 920 West Fifth street and Leroy Frye, 703 East Seventeenth stree t.

Letters Issued

Letters of Administration have been issued to Mrs. Lucille D. Dillard in the estate of S. C. Paxton, who died April 19, 1947, by Judge J. E. Smith, in Probate court.

L. J. Harned is the attorney for the estate.

Paris by Night (for Tourists)

Safe-and-Sane Tour of Night Spots Is Revived As Visitors from U. S. S tart Returning to France

In "La Boule Noire," an authentic Paris dance hall, the tourists see an Apache dance. Highly skeptical spectator at right is Frank B. Jones, 13, who escorted his mother in the "Paris by Night" tour.

Story by ROSETTE HARGROVE
Pictures by MAX WINTER
NEA Staff Correspondents

PARIS—(NEA)—The American tourists are coming back to France and the guides and travel agencies are dusting off the conducted tours and excursions with a happy light in their eyes.

For the visitors from New Jersey or Indiana and the Yankees who get leave from their occupation duties in Germany, a new sight-seeing attraction has been added: the Normandy landing beaches. But the pre-war favorites are in operation again, too, with "Paris by Night" still number-one with the tourists.

We went along on one of the night-time bus excursions, which is offered by every travel agency in Paris. No two are alike, but this one, run by an American agency, provides a modicum of thrills without shocking the not-so-young couples and timorous maiden aunts who want to see Paris night life.

They get to see a chamber of horrors, an authentic dance hall with an Apache dance, and the famed nudity of the Bal Tabarin floor show, along with a sprinkling of champagne at each stop. And for a perfect chaperone, they have 53-year-old Octave Wolf, Tunisian-born Frenchman who ranks as a "National Guide, speaks about eight languages, and is inordinately proud of the fact that in World War I he acted as interpreter at Chateau Thierry with the famous 42nd Rainbow Division.

At tour's end, "Paris by Night" sight-seers line up in front of the Mal Tabarin for the bus back to their hotels. Their guide, Octave Wolf, is at center in light raincoat.

Elderly ladies feel very safe with Wolf, and he keeps a vigilant eye on his charges.

I sat beside a staid middleaged American woman when I climbed aboard Wolf's bus for the excursion.

"Is this your first 'Paris by Night' tour?" my seat mate wanted to know.

When I admitted it was (resident Parisians are the same way about guided tours as resident New Yorkers are about Chinatown), she beamed, but stopped asking questions when I admitted Paris is my home town. All she would tell me after that was that she came from the Middle West and had saved "Paris by Night" for the climax of a visit to London, Holland, Belgium and France.

In front of me sat Tech Sgt. John J. Dorgan and his wife, Mary, of Palisades Park, N. J. "Paris by Night" was their final fling before John went back to his duties at Nuernberg and Mary sailed for the U. S. to visit her parents.

The other members of this night's excursion included a somber, gray-haired couple from South Africa, a score of women in two's and three's and a couple of solitary one's, a trio of rather giggly WACs on leave from Germany, a young Swiss couple, and 13-year-old Frank Bennett Jones, 2nd, son of a U. S. Army officer in Germany, who was escorting his mother for the tour.

We stopped first at the Cavern of the Terror, which is at the end of the "Street of the Fishing Cat" in the Latin Quarter. In a cabaret (empty at the early hour of 9 p. m.) the tourists drank a glass of champagne and were entertained by an illusionist before climbing down a winding stairway to torture chambers of Revolutionary days.

Next was Montmartre and "La Boule Noire," a Parisian dance hall.

There's nothing faked here. Patrons are working-men with their girls, servicemen on leave, as well as con men, pickpockets, gangsters and similar characters. Sometimes there's a little trouble but the manager, who is an ex-boxer, can quell any uprisings. Octave kept a careful check on everybody, just the same.

At the Bal Tabarin, the final stop, we had time to see the entire show. Everybody was shepherded up to the balcony directly facing the stage, an excellent vantage point, and a bottle of champagne was allotted to every four people.

Everybody seemed satisfied. The three WACs said they had expected something much tougher and nuder. The sight-seer from the Midwest admitted she was somewhat confused, especially after austere London but insisted she was having a wonderful time. Sgt. and Mrs. Dorgan decided the revue was extremely artistic.

Young Frank Jones, 2nd, was pretty enthusiastic over the slapstick comedy and the Greek athletes. But when the dancing girls performed, he just chewed gum.

Rural People Spearheading Rat Program

Clubs Are Pooling Their Orders For Poisons

Of all animals, the rat is the one most seriously menacing human health, says the United States Department of Interior, Division of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Farm people, say Roy I. Coplen, County Extension Agent, are taking definite steps to poison rats on the farms. Last fall a pre-Thanksgiving feast of poison was put out on a number of farms. This movement was led by home economic clubs, through their health leaders. Results secured were so that these clubs are spearheading a similar program this spring. Baiting with poison will be done again on June 4 and 5. All these clubs have received information and representatives of many of these clubs are pooling orders for poison. Others interested may participate in this program by acting quickly and contacting the Extension Office in Sedalia.

Rats do not confine their damage on or in farm property. Small towns, larger towns, and cities harbor rats. A town or city campaign properly organized could secure worth while results.

Millions of Dollars Loss

Rats cause an economic loss running anuually up into several hundred million dollars in the United States. The feed bill plus the wastage is enormous and of special importance when so many millions of persons go to bed hungry every night.

Property damage from rats is of more than minor importance. Fires have been caused by rats chewing the insulation from electric wires, holes have been eaten into water pipes, telephone cables have been injured, buildings have been seriously damaged by rats.

Public health is endangered by rats. Bubonic plague, food poisoning, tularemia, rabies, trichinosis, intestinal protojoa and tape worms have been known to be caused or aggravated by rats.

In a control program of rats there are several factors that should be recognized. Rats multiply very rapidly. A litter of rats vary from 6 to 22. The number of litters produced in a year is from 3 to 12. The young breed when only 3 to 4 months old. The life span probably from 3 to 5 years. Writers have said that if the death rate is ignored that the progeny from one pair of rats could exceed 350,000,000 in 3 years.

Good Program Necessary

These are cited to show the importance of a good program. Rats nest in trash piles. A rat control program should include cleaning out basements, back yards, alleys, etc. Lumber, cans, boxes should be stacked on racks 18 inches high.

Uncovered food and garbage invite rats. Keep garbage in tightly covered metal cans; keep the lid on.

Modern poison can kill 98 to 100 per cent of the rats in a city block. And they won't come back—if buildings are rat proofed—if food is kept covered—if hiding places are removed. Rat killing takes organization; its a continuous job.

Use fresh baits and change them daily; try bacon strips, doughnut, apple, fish, scented oatmeal. Enlarge trigger of common snap-trap with cardboard square. Unbaited traps may be set permanently in rat runways.

Flatly Reject Red Protests

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The United States has flatly rejected Russian protests claiming American airplanes have interfered with Soviet shipping in the vicinity of Japan.

The state department said today the U. S. reply to various Soviet notes of protest was delivered to the Russians by the American embassy in Moscow Tuesday.

A statement released by the department said the Soviets had objected to more than 50 cases of alleged interference with their commercial shipping. The department said that neither in the Russian notes nor in direct investigation by American authorities has there been evidence of such interference.

The American reply was not given out in text from here, but was summarized in the statement.

It said that Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme allied commander in Japan uses air, army and naval forces "to prevent smuggling and illegal entry into Japan."

12-Page Repo On Elections

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—(AP)—A federal grand jury reporting today on its four-month investigation into vote irregularities in Eastern Missouri criticised laxity and inefficiency of county authorities in coping with law violations.

In its report to U. S. District Judge George H. Moore, the jury suggested changes in federal vote statutes to grant immunity to witnesses appearing in trials in which offenders are being prosecuted.

The 12-page report covers the period from January 21 to May 14, and disclosed instances of alleged vote irregularities in St. Louis, Shelby, Dunklin, Pemiscott, Butler, Stoddard and New Madrid counties.

The jury said it found evidences of lotteries, bribery of voters, alteration of ballots, illegal voting by non-residents and minors, and miscounted ballots.

In a six-month investigation, the Federal Bureau of Investigation interviewed 1,450 persons and obtained 425 signed statements, the jury report said. Election records, poll books and tally sheets were made available to the jury.

NMSTC Confers 'M.A.' Degree

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., May 27.—(AP)—The Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College at Kirksville held its commencement day exercises today and for the first time in its history conferred the degree of Master of Arts.

One of those to receive his "M.A." is E. H. Dizon, president of Corregidor college, Philippine Islands, a student at the school.

A feature of today's program was the laying of the cornerstones for two new dormitory buildings. Speaker at the cornerstone laying was Governor Phil Donnelly. In his speech prepared for delivery at the ceremony Governor Donnelly said that America need not fear the future if it remains true to Democratic principles and keeps itself strong.

The Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College is the oldest state teacher college and is celebrating its 81st anniversary.

He left no estate to his daughters, Miss Mary Frances McGaw, of Kansas City, Mrs. Margaret Stohr, 904 South Prospect avenue, Mrs. Virginia Steele, Kansas City, and Sister Martha Mary McGaw of Honolulu, T. H., and his sister, Mrs. Georgia Sullivan, 1100 South Massachusetts avenue.

William F. Brown is the attorney for the estate.

Stassen Looks for Second Choice Votes

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen said today that he expected approximately 250 second choice ballots at the Philadelphia convention to add to his predicted 340 first-choice votes for the Republican presidential nomination.

"Obviously second-choice support is nominating support," Stassen said at a news conference here.

The former Minnesota governor said the national convention would be "wide-open" and that no one would have sufficient support to obtain the nomination on the first ballot. Nomination will require 548 votes.

Important Events In The World Today

LAKE SUCCESS, May 27—(AP)—Arab rejection of a cease fire in Palestine created a grave crisis today in the United Nations.

Security council delegates generally anticipated turndown of the U. N. appeal, but when it came they seemed stunned.

Not one delegate spoke after the Arab reply was received last night. Warren R. Austin of the United States appeared to sum up the sentiment. He said the situation is so serious that it requires careful consideration of the American government.

The Jews had accepted the cease fire. Their comment was: If the Arab states want peace with Israel they can have it—if they want war they can have it."

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—The Truman administration has sent the Senate Foreign Relations committee a list of Russia's major misdeeds to block a just peace.

It also has pinned an official "propaganda" label on Russia's spring "peace" offensive.

The list sent to the Senate group is reported authoritatively to cover around three dozen or more violations oby Russia of agreements which the Soviet Union has made during recent years with the United States and various other countries.

CAIRO, May 27—(AP)—A Jewish broadcast said today thousands of Arab and Jewish soldiers are locked in a furious battle at Latrun and Bab el Wad along the supply line between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

The Arabs reported last night 800 Jews were slain in the area.

The Jews have given no casualty figures.

The Voice of Jerusalem, heard in Tel Aviv, said the battle was even more fierce than the fight for the Holy City itself. It said the Arabs had thrown in reinforcements drawn from Jerusalem sectors. Jewish censorship in Tel Aviv blacked out details of the fight.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 27—(AP)—John L. Lewis' refusal to sign a non-Communist affidavit under the Taft-Hartley act is threatening the position of his United Mine Workers' District 50 as bargaining agent for 4,000 DuPont employes near here.

State Director Joe Joy of the CIO Chemical Workers union said yesterday the National Labor Relations board had ordered a new collective bargaining election at the Belle, W. Va., plant of E. I. DuPont De Nemours and company. He said the NLRB order specified that District 50, bargaining agent at the plant since it won an election two years ago, would be excluded from the new ballot.

Senate Group Okays Oleo Bill

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—The Senate Finance committee today approved, 12 to 0, the House-passed oleo margarine tax repeal bill.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) said the committee wrote in an amendment to require that public eating places which serve colored margarine must post a sign saying so. He said the vote on this amendment was 10 to 2.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the Senate Republican policy committee told reporters that group will meet tomorrow to decide when to call up the oleo measure for Senate debate. Taft also is a member of the finance committee.

The bill would repeal the quarter of a cent pound tax on uncolored oleo and the 10-cent a pound levy on colored margarine.

It also would do away with license fees charged manufacturers and distributors. These range up to $600 a year in the case of producers.

Teephone Co. In Rebuttal

JEFFERSON CITY, May 27.—(AP)—The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company presented rebuttal testimony before the Public Service Commission today, seeking to support its contention that an annual depreciation rate of 2.50 per cent is too low.

Its chief witness was H. R. Fritz, Bell chief engineer, who testified at the PSC hearing into the company's request for a rate hike that would yield the utility an additional revenue of $3,250,000.

Earlier G. R. Gilcrest, a commission engineer, had testified that he believed a rate of 2.50 per cent was adequate and reasonable.

Fritz, producing a number of exhibits, testified at length on the method Gilcrest used in obtaining the composite average service life of the company's equipment and other property. Gilcrest had computed this at 27.94 years. The company contends it should be 17.37 years.

Governors' Wives Get Together

JEFFERSON CITY, May 27—(AP)—The wives of four former Missouri governors and of the present governor were guests of honor today at the formal opening of the Cole County Historical Society museum.

The former first ladies at the reception with Mrs. Phil M. Donnelly were Mrs. Guy B. Park, Mrs. Henry S. Caulfield, Mrs. Sam A. Baker and Mrs. Arthur M. Hyde.

New York City's "Bowery" takes its name from Peter Stuyvesant's farm, which he called "the Bouwerie."

File Charges Against Three At University

questioned, Lang said.

Served as Dean

Johnston a full professor on the University's faculty and who recently served as acting Dean of Journalism during the absence of Dr. Frank L. Mott, sat on the rostrum at the school of Journalism and participated in the annual awards to honor students.

Johnston, who had been sought throughout the morning by State Highway patrolmen and police, walked into the Prosecuting attorney's office this afternoon and surrendered on the warrant, charging him with sodomy.

Heathman, who holds both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Agriculture from the University, was quoted by Lang as saying he first met Johnston two years ago after a meeting a few days earlier with Coots. Since then, Heathman was quoted, he and Johnston have engaged in homosexual activities on an average of every other week.

Implicated Veteran

Heathman was arrested, Lang said, after Coots had made a statement implicating the World War II veteran. State Highway Patrolmen arrested Heathman at Rolla, kept him in the Cole county jail at Jefferson City last night and brought him here today.

Coots, Lang said, insisted that he had had no abnormal relations with Johnston for the last six years, but admitted that he had watched Johnston in bed in his apartment with other men.

Lang's investigation began six months ago when, he said, questioning in a robbery case, unrelated to principals in today's development, brought hints of a homosexual ring.

Lang said he had asked University of Missouri officials to furnish funds for a private investigation to go into the student angle, and at first the request was approved but later he was notified that it had been turned down.

No Comment

University of Missouri officials declined to comment upon Lang's statement or to discuss the affair.

A University official, who declined to be quoted, told a newspaperman privately that the University had made an investigation two years ago, but that the matter was dropped for lack of evidence.

Heathman, Lang said, told him that the most recent party was held at Johnston's apartment May 23. The prosecuting attorney added that others had told him of more recent relations with Johnston.

Johnston has been a member of the University of Missouri's faculty since 1924, except for a year as a journalism instructor at the University as Wisconsin and a year at the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University.

Dewey Happy About Reports

ALBANY, N. Y., May 27—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey arrived home today saying he was "happy" about published reports that he would receive the second choice support of a majority of New Jersey's delegates to the Republican National Convention.

The Governor, in the wake of a western campaign tour, spent yesterday in New Jersey seeking support of his candidacy for the presidential nomination.

New Jersey party leaders remained silent on the course the delegation will follow after a first-ballot vote for Governor Driscoll, but there were conflicting reports to to whom the delegates would favor in subsequent voting.

NEW DELHI, May 27.—(AP)—Nine men were formally accused in special court today of assassinating Mohandas K. Gandhi last January 30. They are scheduled to go to trial June 14.

The defendants chatted among themselves as a black-robed judge accepted a police charge sheet, accusing them of murder, conspiracy to murder and violations of the arms and explosives act. All these offenses are punishable by hanging.

Yvonne, who weighed the most at birth, still is the leader in that department—at 130 pounds. Marie, who weighed only 1 pound, 10 ounces, when she was born, is still the tiniest, at 110 pounds and 4 feet 11 inches. Emilie and Yvonne are tallest, at 5 feet 1½ inches.

Headed For an Agreement

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—A six-nation deadlock over Western Germany's future was broken today and negotiators appeared headed for full agreement on setting up a provisional government.

Diplomatic officials said the break—in an economic impasse—came last night when the delegates concurred on broad powers for an international control board over the mineral resources of the Ruhr.

The deadlock, caused by French objection to the plan for reshaping Western Germany's future, had threatened to cause failure of the talks—involving the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Informants said France agreed to the Ruhr international authority for control over allocations of iron ore, coal and coke after the United States made concessions on French demands that safeguards be set up against the possibility that expanded German production might be used as a war potential. The chief concern of France—twice ravaged by war with Germany in 25 years—has been for her own security.

Religion Out of Public Schools

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—(AP)—School Superintendent Philip Hickey last night ordered an end to voluntary religious instruction in public school classes.

Hickey said he was informed by the board of education's attorney that a temporary injunction against the religious instruction program became effective yesterday with filing of a $2,500 bond by Dr. Karl Balazs, who sought the injunction.

Circuit Judge William Koerner ruled Monday in response to the injunction suit that the classes are contrary to the first amendment of the constitution and violate citizens' rights.

He based his opinion on the recent decision of the United States supreme court in the Vashti McCollum case involving the Champaign, Ill., schools.

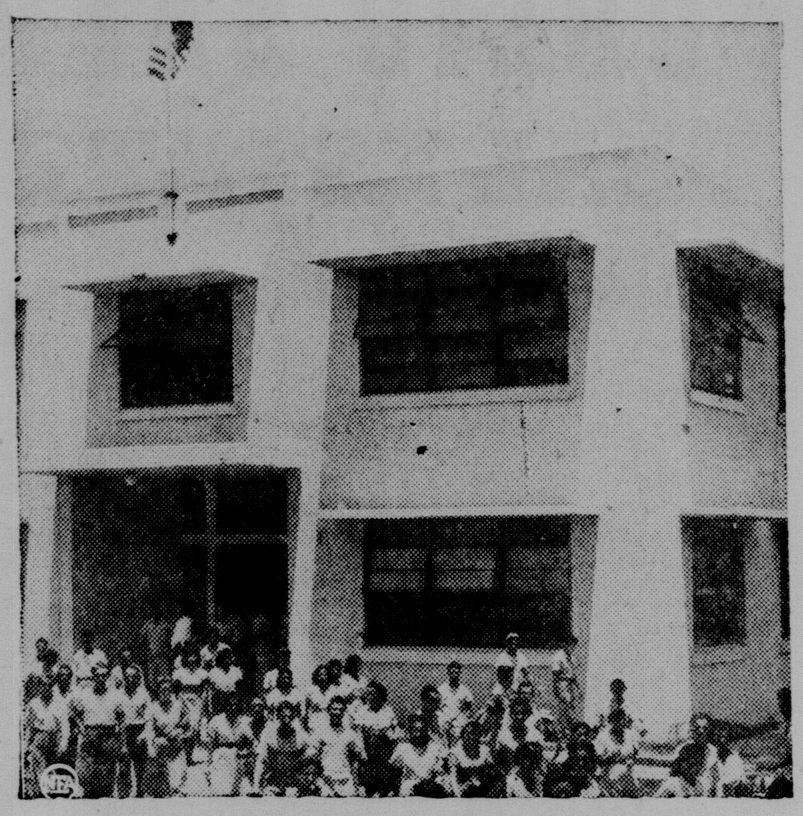
17 New Industries Find a Paradise in Puerto Rico

They Range From a Little Dye Works to a Big Cotton Mill With Others on the Way

Brothers Leslie (right) and Benjamin Hartwell of Puerto Rico out of Maine by way of Massachusetts and Vermont, put the government shoe factory in the black six months after they made their first shoe.



At closing time, workers pour out of the Puerto Rico shoe factory run by the Hartwell brothers. The Hartwells found the Puerto Ricans easier to train than the Vermonters they broke into factory work before the war.

While a U. S. china company builds its factory in Puerto Rico, this girl learns to decorate tableware in a company training school.

In a government plant run by two New England brothers, these Puerto Rico factory girls turn out shoes by mainland methods.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

SAN JUAN, P. R.—(NEA)—Seventeen new industries that will employ almost 3500 workers, with an annual payroll exceeding $3,000,000 have been brought to Puerto Rico by the Industrial Development Company since the program to encourage private capital got into swing.

This includes only those concerns for whom the Development Company has provided factories, in large part at government expense. It does not include the successful fishing rod business that Harry Keller, of Newark and New York, has established with 55 employes; or the bamboo furniture business Keller has just started, which already is using around 60 worker in two different communities. Nor does it count the employment or payroll of a new textile plant for which the final contract was not signed when this list was prepared.

And it takes no account of at least nine industries already working, or installing equipment, that provided their own plants though the Development Company has helped them in other ways.

The new industries for which the Development Company has gone all out range from a dye works that expects to use only 11 employes up to a cotton print mill, to employ 750 persons, that the big mainland company, Textron, Inc., is installing.

Iroquois China, of Syracuse, N. Y., plans to use 305 workers in the dinnerware plant now building at Veja Baha. The Hilton Hotels chain will employ 350 in the $5,000,000 Caribe Hotel the Development Company is building, for Hilton to run. Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis, expects to need 250 making flour, cattle feed, edible oils and soap. The San Juan Glove Corp., subsidiary of Fashion Rite, will want 260, Ponce Candy Industry, making Charms, expects to use 420.

Tax exemption and ready-made factories have been a big attraction to industries already signed up and to others, notably in the textile field, that are seriously considering such a move to Puerto Rico.

But another big selling argument used by Teodoro Moscoso, Jr., the Development Company's aggressive president and general manager, is a big pool of low-cost labor.

In February cane-cutting and processing was about at its peak. This is the island's big employer. Yet that month the insular Bureau of Labor Statistics found 65,000 who had no jobs at all, and more than 145,000 who had less than 30 hours a week. There are many villages back in the hills whose people have had no regular employment, other than government made-work, for years.

Harry Keller, starting his fishing rod and furniture plants, settled where there were 200 such families. He has farmed out part of the weaving of palm-leaf seats to another village, 90 miles away in the mountains, whose people had been without work since cigar making blew up before the war.

Wage scales are very low—in general, about a third those in the States. The legal minimum ranges from 15 cents an hour for hand sewing and vegetable packing up to a high of 35 cents for sugar-making, foundry work and a few other trades.

Before the Crane China Co. (Iroquois subsidiary) could advertise that it wanted 15 or 20 girls to learn decorating table ware, it was flooded in one day with 1600 applicants. It gave aptitude tests to those with as much as eighth grade educations, who could speak English. About 70 per cent qualified.

The government glass plant found that only about 50 per cent of those who tried, proved proficient, against 70 per cent normal in the States. But there were so many applicants, and the pay scale is so low, that the management felt it still was ahead of the game.

Benjamin F. Hartwell of Maine, Massachusetts and Vermont, a third generation shoe maker, is in charge of the government shoe plant in Ponce. He began turning out shoes in July, 1947, and began showing a profit in January, 1948.

Back in 1934 Hartwell started a shoe factory at Bellows Falls, Vt., which he operated until 1940, when the machine tool plants at Springfield and Windsor took his help, at high wages, for super-top priority war work.

"My problem in Ponce," he says, "was the same that I had in Vermont—to teach factory work to farmers. I'll say that I had less trouble training these Puerto Ricans than I did with the Vermonters. They are thirsty for knowledge, and try hard, and they're probably a bit less independent than the Vermonters."

The latest absenteeism report, for March, showed only 3.8 per cent, which would not be high anywhere, in spite of the general belief, backed with government statistics, that Puerto Ricans are not a healthy people. Hartwell gave every applicant a thorough physical test, including chest and back X-rays. He had to reject less than six per cent.

"It would have been less than that in the States," he commented.

Hartwell was encouraged by one other statistic. It is considered undebatable that syphilis is almost universal in Puerto Rico. Yet out of 700 applicants given the Wasserman test, only seven reacted positively and four of these had such mild cases that they were cured and put to work.

U. S. Navy Makes Money

HONOLULU—(AP)—The Navy's Pacific island trading posts made a half million dollars in its first five months—enough to pay back what the company borrowed to go into business January 1. Officials of the corporation, The Island Trading Co., credit the record high price of copra. The deal with the Trust Territory of the Pacific, an area of 2,000,000 square miles including the Marshalls, Carolines and Marianas.

"Actually the Island Trading Co. is a non-profit organization for rehabilitating island economy," explains its treasurer, Cmdr. Kenneth White. "But to operate successfully, we have had to put the company on a sound financial basis. About half of the $500,000 made by the company can be considered a Navy subsidy in free shipping, salaries for Navy men operating the business and assistance in financing."

Three Important Points In the GM Agre ement

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—There are three important points in the agreement General Motors made this week to boost its auto workers' wages.

1. It may show the way for other companies and unions to agree on pay raises without strikes or trouble.

(The U. S. Steel Corporation has flatly refused to pay raise; the Ford Motor company has suggested a pay cut; and workers are striking against the Chrysler Corporation for higher pay.)

2. So far as government and business officials here know this is the first agreement tied directly into living costs.

(That means workers are given raises to meet living costs. If those costs go down, the workers get a cut; if they go up, they get another raise.)

Consider Living Standards

3. GM recognizes that workers, besides having to meet living costs, are entitled to pay that will boost their living standards.

In the past couple of years most unions have won pay raises because living costs have risen.

But they weren't tied directly into living costs, in the sense that the pay automatically would go up or down with living costs.

Simply, they were flat raises—because living costs had risen—for a fixed period, like a year or two, with no pay changes in that period.

Yet, a number of firms—although no huge ones like GM—have given raises that were tied in directly with living costs on that up-an-down sliding scale.

None Over Living Costs

But unions have argued for a long time:

If you try to tie in a man's pay directly with living costs, then a worker is always only just about able to make both ends meet.

It doesn't give him any of the money needed for more than just the day-to-day living. For example: Saving money to send his children to school or buying special things that are not necessities.

Getting more money than just enough to meet the usual living costs, the unions agree, means a man's living standards are raised. And—

As his living standards go up he can buy more things which, in turn, means more people employed to make those things, which means prosperity.

A Flexible Contract

General Motors has offered its CIO Auto Workers' Union both sides of that picture by agreeing to an increase of 11 cents an hour, this way:

1. Eight of the 11 cents to make up for an increase in living costs.

2. The other three cents as an "annual improvement factor to increase the standard of living of workers."

The contract is for two years. In that time the workers may lose some of the eight cents or get more than eight cents, depending on whether living costs in those two years go up or down.

But in that two-year period they will not lose any of the three cents given them to boost their living standards.

Up Next Year

Next year, in fact, they'll get another three-cent living-standard raise, no matter what happens to living costs.

Yet, even if the bottom falls out of living costs in the next two years, the GM workers will not lost all of the eight cents they get now as a living cost increase. This is how it works:

GM figures now the straight hourly pay of its average auto worker is $1.50.

With the new, total 11-cent raise—eight for living costs, three for living standards—he will now make $1.61 an hour.

Every three months GM and the union will look at the government's figures on living costs.

A Five Cent Limit

If they've gone up in the previous three months, the workers will get a living cost raise in addition to their eight-cent living cost raise. But what if living costs have gone down in those three months?

In that case the workers get some of their eight cents taken away, but the company agrees never, in the next two years, to take away more than five of the eight cents. So here's where the GM worker will stand:

He's getting $1.50 now, will get three cents this year and another three next year for living standards, a total of $1.56.

To that $1.56 is added eight cents for living costs. Total: $1.64. If living costs hit bottom and GM takes back five of the eight cents, leaving the worker three, at the end of two years he'll be making $1.59.

American industry now is producing one-third more manufactured consumer goods per capita than it did before the war—evidence that the U. S. standard of living has reached a new high level.

Methodist Men Organize Club

Forty-eight men met in the Fifth Street Methodist church Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a Methodist Men's Club. David Eisenstein led the singing and H. E. Lindstrom led in prayer. Rev. H. U. Campbell, pastor, stated the purpose of the meeting and gave a short talk on Methodist Men's Club purpose and objectives.

Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, church lay leader, talked on the work of the men in the church.

Temporary officers elected were: Bert Hathaway, president, and C. L. Elliott, secretary. After some discussion the men decided to organize a Methodist Men's Club in the Fifth Street Methodist church, meeting monthly on the fourth Wednesday evening. The president appointed the following committees: Nominating, E. W. Kettlesen, P. R. Burford and Seigel Woodard; Constitution and By-laws: L. A. Pharris, Judge Dimmitt Hoffman and A. F. Scott.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, June 23rd, with the dinner in charge of Elmer White, C. L. Elliott, W. D. Barton, W. B. Walkup, P. R. Burford, A. F. Scott, Kenneth Anderson, Bert Hathaway and Robert Burford. Refreshments were served by members of the Wesley Fellowship Class.

Giants Show Cardinals a Big Inning

Polo Grounds Still A Nightmare for Eddie Dyer's Birds

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Life in the Polo Grounds is just a series of nightmares for Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cards. As far as he's concerned they can bring back polo any day.

All last year his favored Red Birds fluttered and played dead when they hit New York. It looks like more of the same in 1948.

Dyer's latest experience was enough to try the patience of a saint. His league leaders were rolling along last night behind a nice 7-2 lead with Howie Pollett, the unbeaten star of both leagues, doing the pitching.

Giants Start Rally

Then the Giants started to break out of their hitting slump. Before the eighth inning was over, eight runs had crossed the plate and the 7-2 lead had changed to a 10-7 deficit.

Bobby Thomson doubled and singled for two hits in the big inning as the Giants chased Pollet, George Munger and Gerry Staley before coasting to a halt for Ken Burkhart. Pollet escaped his first defeat because Dyer called in Munger at the first sign of serious trouble. Munger was felled for his second loss.

Still the Cards show the way with a 1½-game lead over New York, despite last night's disaster.

Across the river in Flatbush, Brooklyn customers were more concerned with immediate problems. Outfielder Pete Reiser and Catcher Bruce Edwards were lost for an indefinite period and the club blew another.

Shortly before midnight the Dodgers again plunged into the cellar as the result of their 4-1 loss to Chicago and Cincinnati's 8-5 win over Boston.

Ramsdell Nicked for Homers

Willard Ramsdell, the knuckle ball pitcher just recalled from Mobile, was nicked for homers by Bill Nicholson and Hal Jeffcoat in the Dodger defeat. Johnny Schmitz calmed the Brooks with six well scattered hits.

Hank Sauer's tenth homer helped Cincinnati sneak out of last place. The Reds routed Warren Spahn, Boston's southpaw ace, to come from behind.

The Pittsburgh - Philadelphia night game was postponed because of threatening weather.

Once again the American league race is all snarled up in percentages. Cleveland, actually trailing Philadelphia by a half game in a strict application of the won and lost principle, still holds first place by two percentage points.

Cleveland was shut out for the first time this season, collecting only three hits in bowing to the Washington Senators, 2-0.

Philadelphia combed the Chicago White Sox, 7-1, in the afternoon behind Joe Coleman's five-hit pitching. It was the fourth straight victory for the rebounding A's.

Yanks "Pass" 10 Men

Detroit "walked" to a 7-3 nod over the New York Yankees when the Yank pitchers passed 10 men. Although touched for 12 hits, Dizzy Trout took the decision from Spec Shea.

It took a double error in the tenth by Catcher Less Moss to enable Boston's Red Sox to down the St. Louis Browns, 5-3. Sam Mele doubled in the tenth and scored when Moss, fielding Dom Dimaggio's attempted sacrifice, fumbled the ball and then threw wildly past first base. Joe Dobson was the seven-hit winner over Frank Biscan.

Until the frenzied tenth, it was a pitchers' battle between Dobson and Ned Garver, who gave way to a pinch hitter.

Garver was in control with a 2-1 lead at the start of the eighth. Then the Red Sox took a one-run lead on two singles, a walk and two infield outs. But a wild pitch by Dobson let Ray Coleman cross home plate as the Browns tied it up in their half. Coleman batted for Garver and laced out a single to get on.

The Browns have an open date today. Tomorrow night the Detroit Tigers move in for a three-game series.

Association Top Position is Close

By The Associated Press

You could cover the three leading teams in the American Association with a fielder's glove today. Only a few percentage points separated St. Paul, Indianapolis and Columbus in the scrap for the top rung.

This was the picture after last night's games:

	W.	L.	Pct.	G. B.
St. Paul	25	15	.625	—
Indianapolis	26	16	.619	—
Columbus	23	14	.622	½

Columbus gained ground in the flag chase by downing Kansas City 8 to 7 last night while both St. Paul and Indianapolis were dropping decisions to Louisville and Milwaukee, respectively. Louisville stopped the Saints 6 to 3, while Milwaukee toppled Indianapolis 8 to 7.

In a fourth league game Minneapolis, 3½ games from the top, defeated Toledo 9 to 2.

Today's schedule:
Minneapolis at Columbus.
Kansas City at Toledo.
St. Paul at Indianapolis.
Milwaukee at Louisville.

Athletics Have Big Games Ahead

After a long practice session at Liberty Park Wednesday evening the Sedalia Athletics are in strong shape for tonight's game against Holden to be played at Holden. Game time is scheduled for 8:30. This will be the first contest for the A's since the All-Star game here. They were rained out of their game with Cameron last Sunday.

Manager Duke Sullivan will have two of his ace moundsman ready for tonight. He'll start either Bus Walker or Artie True.

Athletic followers can be set for a lot of baseball over this holiday week end and the following week.

Starting this Sunday the Athletics are playing hosts to the powerful St. Louis Giants colored team under the guidance of former Sedalian, Plunk Drake.

On Memorial Day, Feld Chevrolet from St. Louis moves into Liberty Park for the first afternoon-night twin bill of the year. And on June 2, the Athletics open a long home stand of night games beginning with Columbia.

Final Wrestling Matches Are Held

The final show of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling entertainment ended in a card complete with everything in the book from straight wrestling to Texas rules. Don McIntyre of Otterville, and Sonny Myers, St. Joseph, local favorites, won their team match from Lord Albert Mills, London, England, and Lou Newman of Los Angeles.

The team tag event came to a crashing end in the second fall when Sonny Myers took Newman and tossed him around, and body slammed him to the mat then body smothered him in two minutes and 39 seconds. The favorite team also won the opening fall after 22 minutes and 28 seconds of battling all over the ring between all four wrestlers, ending with McIntyre using body slams on Mills and a smother.

McIntyre and Myers appeared to be in far better physical condition that either of their opponents, and this proved a great advantage.

In the opening event "Bill" McIntyre, brother of Don, came through to win his fall from Jack Steele, Centerville, Iowa, in 15 minutes and 21 seconds. He used backbreakers and a body smother.

In the semi-windup Ray Villmer of St. Louis, had little trouble with Emir Badui of Arabia and took two falls straight. Badui who hasn't been in Sedalia for nearly two years, wasn't up to his usual self and Villmer went after him like a dog after a rabbit. The first fall was won in 16 minutes and 55 seconds using body slams and a smother, while the second period turned into a slugfest and about everything went. Body slams won again for Villmer in six minutes and four seconds.

The matches were the last for the 1947-48 season.

Thirty Cars Ready For Memorial Race

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27—(AP)—Thirty cars were ready today to start in the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Monday.

Seven cars made their ten-mile qualifying runs yesterday to bring the lineup within three of the maximum starting field. The 34 unqualified cars remaining at the track have only Saturday left in which to try for positions.

If more than 33 cars pass the qualification test the slowest will be eliminated to hold the field to that number.

Mack Ellings of Burbank, Calif., led yesterday's seven with an average of 127.968 miles an hour in a new four-cylinder Kurtis-Kraft owned by Don Lee, Inc., Los Angeles. His run was good for $500 and placed him in the eighth row of the starting lineup.

ST. LOUIS, May 27—(AP)—Baseball fans usually think of Ted Williams as a guy who isn't interested in anything but hitting—during a ball game, that is. . . . But you can take it from an admiring teammate, Boo Ferriss, that Ted's fielding ability has been greatly under rated. . . . Ted has made himself into a lot better fielder than he is given credit for being, says Ferriss. . . "And don't overlook his throwing. Why, in Chicago he made one throw from deep left that was as good as any I ever saw." . . . Williams, known as a dead right field hitter, has been crossing up the opposition on this western tour by hitting to left — whether by accident or intent is not known After belting one homer into the right field upper deck of Chicago's Comiskey park ,against the wind, Ted almost hit a homer into left. . . . And Tuesday night he hit a left field double here, but that obviously was a handle hit.

The best-ball card for the recent PGA tournament was 22-23—45, consisting of nine deuces and nine threes. . . . Think of what you could do with that in a poker game. . . Passing through New York en route to the British amateur championship, Frank Stranahan, who confidently predicted he would win the title, called Freddie Corcoran to ask how he could get along better with British newspapermen. . . . Freddie told him: Treat your caddie right and don't say anything." . . . That's pretty hard to do, Corcoran admitted, if you get a caddie like one who once laid down Francis Ouimet's bag and stalked off the course because Ouimet disagreed with him on what club to use.

Shorts and Shells

The Ozark AAU is having some trouble getting the use of a pool here for the Olympic water polo tryouts in July because the local park board thinks it may be illegal to charge more than two bits admission. . . . At the last report there are 27 official pro baseball scouts searching the deep south for talent.

Wanna Bet?

When the PGA tournament was just getting under way, a couple of guys turned up around the club trying to sell betting cards on the field. . . . Officials who already had suffered from criticism on gambling around golf events, promptly issued a cease and desist order. . . . Which prompted one bookie to remark: "Ah, I wouldn't take a bet on a bet."

Army Finds New German Friends Expensive

FRANKFURT—(AP)—Loitering women are being arrested in this headquarters city of the American Occupation Army at the rate of 250 a week, the provost marshal's office reports. The office said about 40 per cent of the women suffered from venereal disease.

German police are cooperating with military police in ridding the streets of prostitutes, but lack of hospital space prohibits adequate care for them, the report says. An inrease was reported in the number of persons "rolled"—cases in which the victims spent a night with a new found acquaintance and awoke to find money, watch, clothing and friend missing. The office said Americans should be "more selective" in making acquaintances.

Chiefs Play Jeff City On Friday Night

Don McMillan, M. U. Pitcher To Join Local Team Then

The Sedalia Chiefs will meet another bitter rival on the Liberty park diamond Friday night starting promptly at 8 o'clock. Both teams are pointing for this game and it being the first of the season between them should prove to be a real game.

The Jefferson City aggregation is coming with a fine lineup and record for the season that is better than that of the locals, but the Chiefs who dropped a hard fought game to Marshall Monday night are determined to get back in the win column at the expense of the Capital City club.

Manager Walter Jesse has announced that Duck Eschbacher, who pitched the opening game against Mexico last week, will be on the mound for Sedalia and that Dan McMillan, who has been pitching for the University of Missouri will join the club and be available for mound duty if necessary. McMillan who is a Windsor boy was one of the outstanding pitchers in the Big Seven Conference while a member of the University of Missouri. He is also a member of the basketball team playing the guard position . McMillan will be available to do some pitching in this game but it is likely that Manager Jesse will use him in the outfield and save him for the game against Brookfield which is scheduled to be played at Sedalia on June 3.

The Chiefs will meet the Columbia team Sunday night in a game at Slater, with Joe Imhauser pitching for Sedalia and will play Boonville Decoration Day at Boonville wit hBig Jim Egbert doing the pitching for Sedalia.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, May 27—For several days last month the house of representatives was tied up in the famous oleo-butter debate. It created a national sensation.

The oleomargarine bill, pigeonholed by the dairy interests in committee, was forced out by a petition signed by 218 congressmen, half of them from the south. Then the debate started. For several days it raged, with full attendance on the house floor urged by both parties.

The argument of the oleomargarine congressmen was that they were battling for the housewife. But actually they weren't. Many of them were battling because the powerful cottonseed lobby in the south had put on the heat. Campaign contributions, not housewives was the motivating force.

Today, another sort of battle looms in the house of representatives — only this time the situation is reversed. This time not only the housewife is involved, but her children, her husband, and the future of the American family.

But this time, the southern congressmen who rushed in to sign the oleo petition aren't signing up. Neither are the Republicans. For this time the petition has to do with housing.

Real Estate Lobby Pigeonholes

The Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing act, stymied for two years, has now passed the senate, and is pigeonholed in the house banking and currency committee. Its opponents on this committee include Rep. Charles Fletcher of San Diego, Cal., and Rep. John Riley of Sumter, S. C., both members of the real estate lobby and both placed on the committee with the help of lobbyist Morton Bodfish, now under indictment.

In addition, Chairman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, sometimes called No. 1 tyrant of the house of representatives, is determined not to let the housing bill out of his committee.

To overrule Wolcott and get the bill out requires 218 signatures on a petition and Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas of California has courageously undertaken to get these 218 names. First she went to genial ex-speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

"I've never signed a petition in my life, Helen," replied Rayburn, "but I'm with you in spirit and I'll help you. Go to John McCormack and get his name on there first."

Mrs. Douglas went to McCormack, who comes from a congested part of Boston. He too, had made it a practice not to sign discharge petitions, but in this case he made an exception. His name heads the list.

Mrs. Douglas has patiently, painstakingly, valiantly made the rounds of the house, has now collected 125 names. She needs 93 more. But they don't seem to be forthcoming — —despite the fact that the bill has already passed the senate.

Significant fact is that only 15 southern congressmen out of the total 110 southerners in the house, have signed the petition in favor of housing — despite their frantic anxiety to sign a similar petition to get the oleomargarine bill out of committee.

The difference is that in the case of oleo, an active lobby was on the job, buying drinks, buttonholing congressmen, putting on the pressure at home. But when it comes to housing, only the people are concerned — many of them poor people, uninformed people, people unfamiliar with exerting pressure on congress. There are several million of these people, but politically speaking they aren't important. They do not contribute to political campaigns. They're not organized. They just want homes.

So, in these days when the country is worried about Communism, it may pay Congressman Wolcott of Michigan and his G. O. P. henchmen, plus some of the southern legislators, to remember that nothing is more effective in combatting Communism than a roof over your head and some place where a mother can hear her children's prayers alone at night.

Note — Southern congressmen who have recognized the need of housing by signing the discharge petition include: Jones of Alabama; Mills of Arkansas; Price and Smathers of Florida; Lanham of Georgia; Boggs and Morrison of Louisiana; Deane of North Carolina; Stigler, Albert and Morris of Oklahoma; Dorn and Bryson of South Carolina; Kefauver of Tennessee; Patman of Texas.

Steel for Arabia

Secretary of Defense James Forrestal gave his word to congress recently that he would hold up steel shipments to Saudi Arabia until his military chiefs passed on whether a pipeline from the oil fields to the Mediterranean was necessary to American security. The commerce department, which controls export licenses of steel, also agreed.

Nevertheless, despite these promises, this column has learned that the American-Arabian Oil company is planning to pick up 16,000 tons of steel for shipment to the Near East on June 11, 12 and 22. The company also has started to lay the pipeline across the desert although, previously, company officials promised to hold off until they got the green light from congress.

Note — Secretary Forrestals old banking firm has done the financing for some of the companies backing American Arabian oil.

Protocols of the Wise Men

Senator Harley Kilgore, forthright West Virginia Democrat, has asked the post office department to investigate whether rabble rousing Gerald L. K. Smith violated the postal laws in using the mails to circulates a document, purported to be a Jewish master-plan for conquering the world.

A copy of the document, so-called "the protocols of the learned elders of Zion," was mailed by Smith to each member of congress. These protocols have reappeared perennially throughout history whenever propagandists wanted to impose on a gullible public. The old czarist regime in Russia published them, as did Henry Ford and later Adolf Hitler.

To settle the question of their authenticity, Senator Kilgore called upon the Library of Congress and received a detailed summary which branded the protocols as "rank and pernicious forgeries." He has now asked the postoffice department whether it is permissible to send them through the mails.

Offers Bill To Hike Retirement Pay

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—Rep. Wolverton (R-NJ) introduced a blil Wednesday to increase the retirement pay of railroad workers. He said it is needed to meet the high cost of living.

His measure would provide increases ranging from 30 to 60 percent for those who have already retired or will retire in the next few years.

It also calls for a 20 percent increase in payments to widows, orphans, and parents of deceased railroad workers.

Israeli Draft Dodgers Put to Work

Drew Pearson Named Father Of the Year

NEW YORK, May 27— Columnist Drew Pearson was named "The Father of the Year" at the annual Father's Day Award luncheon here today. This is the first time a newspaperman has won this distinction. Mr. Pearson was chosen for the honor because of his achievements with his vast "International Friendship Train" project and his activity in the "Make-Democracy Live" program. The selection committee also recognized his consistent fight against intolerance and for good citizenship.

Drew Pearson played a large part in the defeat of the Communists in the recent Italian election. One United States diplomat credits him with turning the tide in this crucial test against Communism. He started his program by revealing details of a Communist plot to take over Italy, called the roll of Italian Communists and revealed where secret arms were cached. Mr. Pearson followed this up with the Friendship Train and travelled with it across the United States and into Italy and France. He proposed to the American people that they write letters to friends and relatives in Italy to combat Communist propaganda and a million extra letters a week flowed overseas. His Make-Democracy-Live radio program was short-waved to Italy with prizes for the best letters on democracy.

Father's Day is June 20 and its theme this year, is "Good Citizenship Begins at Home — Honor Dad, Builder of our Children's Future."

Hal Boyle's Column

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, May 27—(AP)—Ah, the simple life, the good old healthy simple life.

Everybody agrees it's best — but you can live it in an awfully complicated way.

There was Marie Antoinette, a pretty French queen who never lost her head but once. In her palmy prime she took to heart the back-to-nature advice of Jean Jacque Rousseau, a philosopher who preached the simple life long before Bernard MacFadden made the raw carrot respectable.

Marie's idea of simplicity was to erect a number of rustic villas around the Petit Trianon, her toy castle at Versailles. There she and her court pals played at milkmaid in silk and satin. They milked the cows in a marble barn.

Simply Wonderful

La Belle Antoinette was convinced it was a wonderfully simple life. Or simply wonderful. If anybody got callouses it was the cows.

This same kind of hocus-pocus goes on today, but here in the home of the Bronx jeer it usually is rewarded with a noisy razzberry.

In New York a millionaire is expected to live like a millionaire. A man with money who makes a show of living simply is suspected of either being stingy or just simple in the head. The idea held by several million people here is that money isn't smething to be annoyed at having. It's something to get and enjoy out loud. You spend it with a bang.

Real in New York

"It's so good to get back to New York where everything is real," cry actors returning from the west coast. "Hollywood is so phoney.

And that brings us to the tale of the Hollywood film executive sentenced to serve a term in durance vile here on the stone canyons of Broadway, whence cometh much movie dough.

In keeping with the spirit of poverty that has recently shadowed the celluloid empire, the executive and his wife decided they would avoid display and lead a life of rugged simplicity.

So for their summer stay they rented a fourth-floor walkup flat at $175 a month. It was charming squalor to them — a small kitchen, a tiny dining balcony, a bath, a living room and a bedroom and a half.

Well, shades of Marie Antoinette!

On Third Ulcer

The wife hired a secretary and brought along a personal maid, an upstairs maid, and a downstairs maid. She also brought along a French chef to cook for her husband who is on his third ulcer — and can eat only broiled chicken and broiled lamb chops.

Because there was no room for the servants, they had to be put up at an expensive hotel nearby at a cost in excess of the apartment itself.

The film colony refugees also put in new drapes, had new slip covers made for every piece of furniture in the place, and built in a long wooden closet which they'll have to have torn out at summer's end. Although the apartment is cluttered up with muscle, an outside cleaning firm is called in once a week to mop and dust the joint. The fee: $15.

Wife Doesn't Have Time

But the wife doesn't have time. She's out shopping all day. The personal maid is too busy sewing on buttons. The downstairs maid is too busy washing the clothes bags and wiping the books. The upstairs maid is too busy doing the dishes. The French chef—well, he has to broil that lamb chop.

A writer who relayed me this Hollywood version of roughing-it-in-the-big-city said dazedly:

"When the wife gets back she will tell all her friends:

"'We had the cutest little studio apartment in Manhattan. We lived just like a couple of struggling young artists'."

Well, you can't beat the simple life at its best. Cavair is no higher than hen's eggs — if you buy it by the egg.

Ill Wind—$3.25 Worth

JOLIET, Ill.—(AP)—The wind blew out the tail light on his automobile, Allen R. Thayer told police when he was arrested for operating a vehicle without a tail light. Thayer explained he was using a kerosene tail light. Police Magistrate Thomas K. Sprague fined him $3.25 and told him to modernize the car's lighting or he might be arrested again—if the wind is blowing.

Whittier 7th Grade Has Tea For Mothers

The members of the seventh grade at Whittier school and their mothers were honored at a tea on Monday afternoon in the school auditorium.

Fruit juice, cup cakes and cookies were served from a beautifully decorated table which held a bouquet of flowers.

Preceding the tea a short program was presented, climaxing the unit study of Missouri, which is the pupils' contribution to the school exhibit at the State Fair.

Musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. Charles Hansford, music instructor, included two songs sung by the entire room, "Sour-Wood Mountain" and "Missouri Waltz," a piano solo by Betty Stroup, cornet solo by Leo Vinson, violin solos by Evelyn Fisher and Hazel Miller, and a singing game, "Old Dan Tucker."

Mrs. Walter Ehlers, the room teacher, presented Hazel Miller and Leo Vinson, who introduced their casts for original dramatizations which they had written from the book Tom Sawyer. These were entitled "Tom and Becky Became Engaged" and "White Washing the Fence," respectively.

Reports from the social studies and English work were given by several pupils. Miss Catherine Garman, school principal, presented certificates to the Safety Patrol boys and girls.

Members of the seventh grade beside those named are: Gareld Lohnes, Robert Fulton, James Cable, John Houston, Margaret Berry, Aloha Smith, Russell Vinson, Ralph Goodpasture, Della Schrader, Carolyn Houston, Doris Hayworth, Shirley Dumsday, James Vinson, Albert Cusick, Gary Branstetter, Barbara Vinson, Roland Means, Arthur Jentz, Earl Nold, Betty Hayworth, Earl Paxton, Gerald Holman, Shirley Cooper, Edna Southard, Bobby Lewis, Bobby Esser, Bob Hieronymus, Ruth Woodford and Stanley Young.

White Policy Overdone,

MELBOURNE—(AP)—Prof. Griffith Taylor, geographer and anthropologist, has warned Australia dangers in her White Australia policy. He says Australia would antagonize China and Japan to a dangerous degree if she persisted with "petty evictions of people on color grounds."

(Australia in the past two years has deported Chinese, Malayans, other Asiatics, and one or two American Negroes who had been here since the early days of World War II).

Professor Taylor said one of the biggest reasons for man's troubles is that five-ninths of the world's surface belongs to colored men, but is occupied by white men.

Health in a Package; An Experiment Pays Off

By NEA Service

ST. LOUIS—(NEA)—Tom Bastian didn't feel well. He wasn't really sick, but obviously something was wrong. It was four years since he had seen a doctor. On $42.50 a week, in a big city like St. Louis, with a wife and two children, a man can't afford many visits to the doctor.

But this time Tom didn't hesitate. He not only went to one doctor—he went to 22. He was X-rayed thoroughly. his teeth were examined and cleaned. His eyes were tested. He got everything he would have been given at the Mayo Clinic or Johns Hopkins.

It didn't cost him a penny, because Tom is one of more than 8,000 men and women—mostly members of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers (CIO), who belong to the Labor Health Institute.

Fifty-eight St. Louis stores, in their contracts with the union, agree to pay to the Health Institute either 3½ or 5 per cent of their payrolls. The smaller figure covers only the worker himself. The larger one, being put in new contracts, covers the whole family.

For this the worker and his family get such services as Tom Bastian needed. They get Blue Cross hospital insurance benefits, paid out of this employers' contribution. For $2—for the first visit—and $1 thereafter, they get any sort of curative treatment they require.

At the Institute they can be passed back and forth among specialists in internal medicine, surgery, women's diseases, urology, stomach diseases, eye, ear, nose and throat, neurology, allergies, childrens' diseases. They have the use of X-ray facilities, of dentists and a dental clinic, of a fully-equipped laboratory—plus registered nurses and a social worker.

A pharmacy attached to the Institute sells drugs, prescribed by the Institute's doctors for about half what most drug stores charge. Probably 7,000 out of the more than 8,000 beneficiaries of this plan belong to the retail workers' union, which conceived the idea, sold it to employers and has got it included in many contracts

Dr. Elmer F. Richman: Eventually, a hospital of their own.

On the LHI program, even the children's teeth get care.

The system is open, however, to members of any other union that may get its employers to contribute. It is open also to anybody else, in or out of the union, who is willing to pay 3½ per cent of his own salary for membership.

In the beginning, employers were skeptical and hard to persuade. Now Dr. Elmer F. Richman, director, finds them very cooperative. They have discovered, he says, that the Institute is of value in guiding the placement of workers, reducing absenteeism, and increasing worker productivity by preventing sickness and eliminating worry about himself and his family.

The Institute started in 1945 with 1,500 "patient" members and six physicians. Today there are 36 doctors, five dentists, plus enough nurses, laboratory technicians, secretaries and other personnel to handle more than 100 patients a day.

Most of the doctors have their own practices, but keep regular office hours at the Institute adapted to the off-work hours of the patients. Dr. Arthur M. Alden, associate professor of Otolaryngology at Washington Medical School, and the Institute's chief of staff, says that "our doctors are well paid for their work, and as a trained medical team are giving the members the highest type of complete medical and dental care in the home, in the medical center, and in the hospital."

Last year the average Institute doctor saw three patients an hour and earned $6.03 an hour. One estimate places the average pay of Institute physicians at $9,600 a year. Yet the members are getting full preventive and curative treatment at a small fraction of what it would cost ordinarily.

Dr. Richman hopes eventually to get from 25,000 to 50,000 members, and the Institute's own hospital. He feels that the larger membership will make much better service possible. And there is a feeling that private hospitals are a bit cool toward Institute members, even though they are paying full Blue Cross rates for coverage.

The United Automobile Workers have been watching this St. Louis experiment with great interest, and would like to see it made part of their program. But they point out that in Michigan and 16 other states no organization except a group of doctors is permitted by state law to sponsor such a setup.

Dr. Alden states the case for the type of group medical practice that underlies the Institute.

More than $3.5 billions a year is spent for medical care, he says, but less than three cents of every dollar goes to prevent sickness, which is the very fundamental of the Institutes' work.

Sickness, he points out, is something for which ordinary budgeting cannot care. Some get well for $5 or $10 a year, while others go hopelessly into debt for years when trouble hits. The rich can pay, the poor can get medical treatment and hospitalization free, but the middle classes can do neither.

As a result, he says, a survey in California showed that only 66 per cent of lower income families get the medical care they need, and many of them do so only by going in debt to the hilt.

The cost of medical service, he says, interferes even more with preventive service—to keep workers and their families well—than with curative practice, to which they are driven when they get sick enough.

In these days of medical specialization, no doctor is competent to keep up with scientific progress in all branches. Yet persons of small income cannot afford to pay the fees of one specialist after another until their physical troubles are discovered and cured.

The Labor Health Institute makes everything available in one package, with high grade specialists, good equipment, in a pleasant setting, at low cost for treatment and none for diagnosis.

Five Years Term Over Death Of Babe

How'd You Like to Wash It?

Long Beach, Wash., folk claim this frying pan is the world's largest. It's made of steel and weighs 1100 pounds. During a Chamber of Commerce clambake, the pan was used to fry clams to feed more than 2500 people. That's a real horse in front of it.

Poland Moves West

WARSAW — (AP) — Poland's investments in the lands she took from Eastern Germany after the Pottsdam agreement probably will run close to $2,000,000,000 by the end of 1948, says Josef Dubiel, vice minister for the western territories.

Dubiel says Germans in the western lands "no longer constituted a problem for Poland." He says there are less than 100,000 Germans in all of Poland now, including 40,000 prisoners of war. Since 1945, Poland has expelled 2,155,000 Germans. The government intends to have every German off Polish soil by the end of 1948, but has complained of experiencing difficulties in having the British zone accept more expelles, Dubiel says.

Don't Bear It!

BELTON, Mont. — (AP) — Bears aren't too fussy about caring where a chocolate bar ends and a human hand begins.

Visitors to Glacier National Park this summer will be given frequent reminders of this.

Warning signs, set in series of three, will read: "Highway bears are often rude," "They eat fingers as well as food" and "Play safe, don't feed bears."

Park Naturalist Don Robinson and Ranger George Hill designed the signs.

In 1858, Queen Victoria chose Ottawa, then a city of 20,000, as the seat of government of Upper and Lower Canada. It became capital of the New Dominion in 1867.

New Gadgets Forecast More Carefree Travel

Soignee traveler keeps her jacket wrinkle-free during a trip by hanging it up on a plastic-coated steel rod. Rubber guards prevent clothes from sliding in front of back window. Adjustable rod is installed without use of screws or bolts.

By Kay Sherwood
NEA Staff Writer

A more carefree life for the gypsy-minded Americans is the promise made for summer by ingenious new accessories specifically designed to solve problems which ruffle the tempers of travelers.

Many of the new devices are aimed to please motorists. Jackets or suit coats, for example, which are so quick to show the crush of travel can be carried wrinkle free by hanging on a car rod of tenite-coated steel. The self suspension rod, made in two telescoping sections, spans the back seat of the car. Sponge rubber guards brace the hangers at either side and prevent togs from sliding into back window space to obscure the driver's rear-view outlook.

Driver supplies himself with lighted cigaret by pressing lever of the automatic dispenser, placed near steering wheel.

By simply pressing a lever, the man at the wheel can supply himself with a lighted cigaret from an automatic dispenser without any distraction from driving. The dispenser holds 23 smokes and at the touch on the lever feeds one cigaret into a trough where it is pushed against the lighter for ignition.

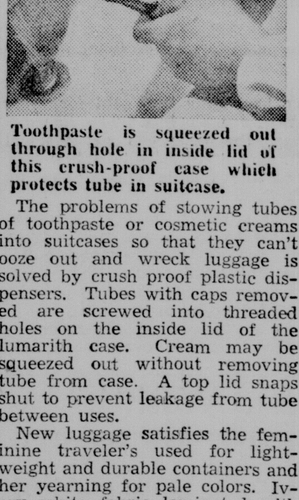
Masculine autoists will also approve a new safety light which plugs into the car's cigar lighter and can be set to flash red warning signals in case of accident. As handy an accessory is a roomy billfold with a concealed memo pad which helps to simplify recording travel costs.

Toothpaste is squeezed out through hole in inside lid of this crush-proof case which protects tube in suitcase.

The problems of stowing tubes of toothpaste or cosmetic creams into suitcases so that they can't ooze out and wreck luggage is solved by crush proof plastic dispensers. Tubes with caps removed are screwed into threaded holes on the inside lid of the lumarith case. Cream may be squeezed out without removing tube from case. A top lid snaps shut to prevent leakage from tube between uses.

New luggage satisfies the feminine traveler's used for lightweight and durable containers and her yearning for pale colors. Ivory white fabric laminated with transparent plastic produces a handsome and extremely tough material for suitcases which will take heavy travel abuse without scuffing or crushing. Soap and water washings will keep cases clean both inside and out.

GOP Truman



Her name is Margaret Truman of Independence, Mo., but it isn't THE Margaret. "I'm a Republican and can't sing a note," said this Margaret, a 23-year-old nurse. She recently married Army Capt. Warren Annear.

Parable Builds Church

NASHVILLE—(AP)—The Parable of the Pounds (Luke 19:11) is building the new First Methodist church in Alcoa, Tenn. Rev. J. A. Hardin, the minister, distributed $2 bills to the congregation to be returned after the manner suggested in the Bible.

Even non-members of the church liked the idea and took "pounds" to develop. Recipients bought material and made fudge, aprons, quilts, raised chickens and other things for sale. No record has been kept of the people receiving the bills. The money with the increase is returned in plain envelopes. The church is nearing completion.

To Greenland's Icy Mountains

COPENHAGEN — (AP) — There will be four expeditions to Greenland this summer. They are the "Pearyland Expedition," headed by Danish Count Eigil Knuth; 2, an expedition headed by the Danish geologist Lauge Kovh, with the purpose of doing geological research work on Ella Island; 3, a French expedition, headed by M. Victor. This expedition is scheduled to last three years and members will be dropped over the inland ice with parachutes; 4, an expedition sent out by the University of Leeds. This expedition will carry out glaciological research.

Warts A Joke Son —London Version

LONDON —(AP)— The "Medical Press." British scientific journal, wasn't impressed by American and Belgian treaties on the removal of warts. It commented after a terse review:

"But whatever incomprehensible pontifical utterances roll in unctuous polysyllabic didactism from the lips of the eclectic cognoscenti, all the vulgar know full well that warts are cured either by pulling them out with adhesive strapping or by burning them with fuming nitric acid or, better, by the charms of witches or, best of all, by the magic of wizards."

Macedonian Sheep Nationalized

BELGRADE—(AP)—Large Macedonian sheep herds are to be nationalized under a law passed by the provincial legislature. The legislators were told that large sheep owners were reducing their herds and refusing to adopt new methods. This was said to menace the five year plan to build Macedonian sheep herds to 3,000,000 animals.

The law does not specify the method for nationalization, but it is assumed that all herds of over 400 sheep will be placed on collective farms controlled by the state.

As national capitals, Ottawa and Washington have a lot in common geographically: each has its chief governmental buildings on a hilltop and each has a river and two tributaries.

Little Women Find Their Place in the Sun

NEW YORK—Statistics shatter the grand illusion that most American women are as tall and slim as goddesses.

Surveys show that more than 77 percent of our feminine population shapes up into the short and chunky. The figures show that average height is under five feet, five inches; that hip measurements come closer to 39 inches than a svelte 35; that waistlines aren't as hand-spanning as is commonly believed.

Designed to accommodate Mrs. Average American is the skirt length of this dress as well as that of the slimming, princess-styled coat of navy blue butcher linen shown with it, center, to make a townwear ensemble.

Approval of $3,671,519 On Buildings

Included Is Sum Of $2,603,313 To Training School

JEFFERSON CITY, May 27—(AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly approved Wednesday a $3,671,519 building program for Missouri's five state hospitals and $2,548,162 for new buildings at the strife torn state training schools.

The building programs financed from Missouri's postwar reserve fund were included in an appropriation bill setting aside $15,417,792 for state penal and charitable institutions.

At the same time the governor signed a bill transferring $15,000,000 from general revenue to the postwar reserve. State sales and income tax collections during an inflationary period have swollen the general revenue to record levels.

Only $23,500 was cut by the governor in his first vetoes of 1948-49 appropriation items. That was allotted by the legislature to the juvenile training schools from public school funds. The governor concluded they were not legally entitled to state aid as free public schools.

To Training Schools

Here are the allotments approved for the training schools:

Boonville boys' schools $2,603,313, including $2,162,313 from the postwar reserve for new buildings; Chillicothe girls' school $590,350, including $385,850 for buildings; Tipton Negro girls' school $53,000, none of it for buildings.

The governor told his news conference all of the money for new buildings could not be spent during the fiscal year starting July 1. But it was approved, he said, on the theory it would create "sort of an obligation" for the legislature to re-appropriate it next year.

For state hospitals the bill includes:

No. 1 at Fulton $1,681,500 includes $564,500 from the postwar reserve for buildings; No. 2 at St. Joseph $1,907,075 including $701,625 for buildings; No. 3 at Nevada $1,704,450 including $774,250 for buildings; No. 4 at Farmington $1,560,344 including $747,344 for buildings; Marshall - Carrollton state school for feeble minded and epileptic $1,473,800 including $883,800 for buildings.

In addition the bill carries $3,070,750 for the state penitentiary. Part of it a revolving fund, and $298,300 to operate the Algoa intermediate men's reformatory.

Today's action left the governor's desk clear of all but one appropriation bill—the catchall omnibus bill totaling $19,548,901.

Since the legislature over-appropriated expected revenue for next year by about $1,900,000, he said it would be reasonable to expect some vetoes in that measure. He declined to say what they would be.

Earlier today he approved a bill carrying $29,845,495 for state aid to public schools next year, compared with $31,576,332 actually distributed this year. If state tax collected hold up, officials expect next year's school fund to equal or exceed this year's.

Try Secret Vote On Machines

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27—(AP)—Indiana is going to try something new in politics—a state nominating convention next month with secret voting on machines.

There will be no thundering roll calls nor battles on the floor over whether a county will vote as a unit, nor delegates with pockets stuffed with proxies.

It's a new deal in both Republican and Democratic state nominating conventions, under a new state law brought out as a reform following the conventions of 1946 when charges of "purge" and "steamroller" were made.

Instead of the alphabetical roll call and voice vote, the delegates will go to the machines—one for each 75 delegates—and cast their vote in secret. There will be only one announcement of the vote and that will be the final total.

This innovation is one of several under the new system.

Others are:

A delegate may vote no more than one proxy.

The top of the ticket will be nominated last. This year that is governor. In some years it is senator. This year the state's presidential electors for the November general election ballot will be named first and candidates for governor last.

No one except delegates, election inspectors and clerks will be allowed on the convention floor during the voting.

Indiana is one of four states that still nominate state officers and U. S. Senators in convention. All others use a primary system.

At the 1946 convention the Republican organization sponsored William E. Jenner of Bedford for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate. He was nominated and Senator Raymond E. Willis, just completed his first term, was purged.

The Idaho territory, which covered more than 90,000 square miles, had only a few dozen white people in its population as recently as 1860.

Vote to Extend Tariff Act

GOP Force In The House Approves It For A Year

By Francis M. LeMay

WASHINGTON, May 27—(AP)—Republicans rammed through the house Wednesday a bill extending reciprocal trade act for just one year and putting congressional checkreins on the President's tariff making powers.

In the slam-bang election year renewal of the ancient tariff feud between the major parties, the Democrats lost this time, 234 to 149. They tried in vain to kill the GOP measure and substitute their own to prolong the trade act "as is" for three years. The substitute was beaten 211 to 169.

On the final vote 218 Republicans were joined by 16 Democrats in support of the GOP bill; opposed were 142 Democrats, 5 Republicans and 2 American Labor Party members.

The legislation now goes to the Senate. How it will fare there is uncertain, but another word battle is sure.

Marshall Assails Bill

In its action the House brushed aside a statement from Secretary of State Marshall that the GOP measure would shake the foundation of America's foreign economic policy. Marshall called it worse than no bill at all.

House Republican Leader Halleck, of Indiana, called Marshall's statement "reckless," adding: "I for one resent it."

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the ways and means committee challenged Marshall's qualifications to speak on tarriffs.

Knutson also said that under Marshall's actions as army chief of staff "the war cost us three times as much as it should have."

Rep. Wadsworth (R-NY) took the floor to defend Marshall. He told the House he had "no sympathy" with this statement by Knutson.

"How about Alf Landon?" interposed Rep. Doughton (D-NC), leading the Democratic attack on the Republican bill. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential candidate, on Saturday came out for a three-year "as is" new lease on life for the trade act, saying the Republican bill would violate the 1944 party platform.

"Oh, they've corrupted him with a lot of luncheons," Knutson replied. "I'll correct that: I won't say corrupted; I'll say leading him astray."

In the blistering debate, Democrats accused the Republicans of trying to sabotage the trade act and return to the "isolationism" and "high tariff" period under the Smoot-Hawley law of the 1930's.

Halleck called the Republican measure "a happy compromise that will carry forward the idea of true reciprocity."

Before the vote on final passage, the House approved, 196 to 166, a rule providing that no amendments could be offered.

Fire Just 'Short' In Transformer

Smoke eminating from the roof of the Missouri Public Service corporation building, 400 South Ohio avenue, was noticed around 10:15 o'clock, Wednesday night by William F. Brown, city attorney, who rushed to the Democrat-Capital office and turned in the fire alarm.

Upon the fire trucks arriving at the scene, a large crowd was gathered, and watched interestedly when the fire crewmen hoisted a 45-foot aerial ladder at the side of the building.

After the men climbed the top, it was readily ascertained that a short in the transformer which controls the green neon sign, running around the building was the cause.

The wires were cut to prevent any further destruction.

Smoke from the insulation burning off the wiring put out fumes that were very perceptible.

Very little damage resulted.

School for Air Age Survival

Here's How They Drop Down To Bring You Back Up

CHOW DOWN: Living off the fat of the Everglades, trainees eat from bamboo containers in which they've cooked up a stew of rabbit and swamp cabbage.

TREED: In forest jumps, trainees deliberately land in trees so they'll know the tricks that Sgt. Kenneth Wilson of Savannah, Mo., is learning.

GOING DOWN! Pararescue Student Sgt. William E. Risteau of Utica, Ill, carries full equipment and wears a face protector for his jump into the Everglades.

An NEA Picture Story
By MIKE ACKERMAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

IMMOKLEE, Fla.—(NEA)—You don't ask what's for chow in the Air Force Pararescue and Survival Training school unless you really want to know.

It's likely to be baked moccasin snake.

The snake-eaters are students who are learning to become specialists in the USAF Air Rescue Service. As Para-doctors and Para-medics, they are being trained to drop out of the skies wherever a plane may have crashed, and bring the survivors back alive.

The Pararescue tropical training includes four parachute "tree jumps;" five days instruction in "fresh water survival," which means finding your own food and shelter in the swamplands, and five days of "salt water survival," where the Everglades menu of snake, alligator, rabit and cabbage palm changes to crab, fish and oysters.

When the students come back from the beach, they still have a long way to go before graduation. There's another week of training in the desert near El Paso, Tex., and a tough final week in the mountains near Lowry Air Force base, Denver, Colo. There they jump into the trees and snow, and learn to live in arctic tents, lean-tos and snow caves at 10,500-foot-high Berthoud Pass.

After graduation at McDill Field, Tampa, the survival experts will help build up Air Rescue Service into a world-wide unit. Its bases are reaching out into Saudi Arabia and Libya, ready to save the lives of American airmen no matter where they may be forced down

These are the men who'll parachute down to give you medical aid if you're ever in a plane forced down in the tropics, for instance. If they can't get you out overland, they'll probably hoist you out by helicopter.

Meanwhile, they'll keep you alive. On moccasin snake, maybe—but good.

Radio disturbances occur when the ionosphere or radio reflecting region 50 to 250 miles above the earth is disrupted by the incoming streams of particles from the sun.

Idaho, as a state, is only 58 years old.

Idaho had no form of government for more than 50 years after the first white men, Lewis and Clark, set foot on the territory.

New studies reveal that the probable cause of aurora borealis, known as "northern lights," is streams of hydrogen ions or particles, swarming into the earth's atmosphere from the outside.

Old Boy Does A Man's Job

Pop McKee: The bobby-soxers will have to wait.

BY MARY C. FLYNN
NEA Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Kans.—(NEA)—Anybody who has seen a movie about newspaper life knows that when a city editor wants a messenger he shouts "Copy boy," or just "Boy" even though the boy is likely to turn out to be a bobby-soxer journalist.

But not at the Kansas City Kansas. There 86-year-old Harry G. "Pop" McKee, probably the nation's oldest copy "boy," has been answering the call for the last five years with a record most of his bobby-sox counterparts would find hard to match.

Pop has not missed a day of work and never has been late in those five years. He is on the job six days a week, reporting at 7:40 a. m., 20 minutes before his scheduled starting time.

Newcomers to the Kansan find it hard to believe the age of this amiable and agile copy boy. His hearing is good, and he wears spectacles only for reading. He has smoked a pipe daily for the past 17 years.

After more than 40 years of farming in Kansas, Pop worked for 12 years as a foreman in a soap plant. The next 12 years were spent in retirement.

Pop sought his present job to "help out" during the war. He went to C. H. Nohe, the Kansan's city editor, and asked if he could substitute for an employe who had gone to war. He replaced a teen-ager who joined the air forces. When the boy didn't want to return to his job after the war, Pop stayed on.

Now he takes care of all mail coming into the Kansan building, runs general errands for the editorial staff, files cuts and pictures, nurses the teletype machines, checking NEA comics and other features and news material for use and the return of news material to contributors. He works meticulously and constantly.

Pop walked the three flights of stairs from the editorial room to the press room to get the new editions until recently when Nohe insisted that he save himself the steps by using the plate lift operating between the press and composing rooms.

He uses a news carrier's bag to bring the mail from the post office two blocks away, an average daily load of 35 pounds.

Nohe, who gave McKee his nickname, says Pop "recognizes news for its severity but usually comes up with a wisecrack about the latest story off the teletype. His observations on the news are sharp."

Pop has "the old-fashioned idea of thrift," says Noble. "Before he will dole out a new typewriter ribbon, he makes sure the applicant's old ribbon has been fully used."

With his wife, Pop has kept a flower garden for 20 consecutive years. In the spring and summer, blooms from the garden decorate desks of the Kansan city room.

The bobby-soxers will have to wait a long time for Pop's job. "Those 12 years of retirement were the hardest of my life," he says.

Will your coal bin be full next winter?

It will be if the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines can be of any assistance, for the railroad is now busily engaged in constructing 200 new 70-ton steel gondola cars like the one pictured above. One hundred and twenty men, working full time in the Katy's Denison, Texas, car shops, are turning out the gondolas at the rate of four a day.

Workers are putting finishing touches of steel construction on the car shown above. After assembly in the steel shop the gondolas are taken to the air brake shop, where those important safety devices are applied and tested. The cars are then sand blasted and given a primer coat of paint. Following this primer paint coat the flooring, or "decking," of creosoted gum is laid and bolted. The cars then move to the paint shop, where they receive coats of surface paint and identifying markings are stenciled on the car sides and ends.

The gondolas, which are used for such freight as sand and gravel as well as coal, are placed in service immediately after they receive a rigid final inspection at the end of the production line.

High Rankers In Contest

The boys and girls of Sedalia have had a great deal of fun working on a contest in the Children's Room of the Public Library. Clues were given to ten of the important mothers of both real life and story books. Ninety-five children, from both city and country schools tried to guess the answers. Those in kindergarten and first grade enjoyed it as much as the older boys and girls. They liked to see their old friends mentioned like the old woman in the shoe, from Peter Rabbit's mother, and their most special acquaintances—Epaminodas and his Mammy.

Miss Mary Kay English, head librarian of the Sedalia Public Library, acted as judge.

The children who ranked highest in the contest were two who received a score of nine out of a possible ten. They were Frances Bennett of Broadway School and Jimmy Swafford of Mark Twain.

Honorable mention is given to the next highest scores of eight received by the following girls: Barbara Grady of Broadway, Nancy Cook of Mark Twain, Sandra Gates, Anita Miller and Barbara Lamy, of Sacred Heart.

Bill Taylor soars peacefully over Wichita, Kan., in the new Mooney M-18, new flivver plane powered by an automobile engine. The M-18 weighs only 450 pounds but has a retractable landing gear and a single-lever control. It can do better than 100 miles an hour, yet the designer claims it can fly from coast-to-coast on $12 worth of gasoline.

ORDINANCE 172

AN ORDINANCE granting to The Gas Service Company, a corporation, operating a gas distribution system in the City of Houstonia, Missouri its successors and assigns, a franchise to operate a natural gas distribution plant and system in said City, imposing an occupation and license tax, and relating thereto.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING BODY OF THE CITY OF HOUSTONIA, MISSOURI:

SECTION 1. That there is hereby granted to The Gas Service Company, a corporation operating a gas distribution system in the City of Houstonia, Missouri, herein called the Grantee, its successors, and assigns, the rights, privileges and franchise, for a period of twenty (20) years from the effective date hereof, to construct, maintain and operate in the present and future streets, alleys, bridges and public places in said City, its gas distribution system as now located, together with the right, privilege and franchise to acquire, construct, maintain and operate therein and thereon such additions and extensions thereto as may be necessary or desirable, all for the purpose of supplying natural gas for all purposes to the inhabitants of said City and consumers in the vicinity thereof.

SECTION 2. All rates established and charges made by Grantee for gas distributed and sold hereunder shall be subject to valid and lawful orders of the Public Service Commission of the State of Missouri, or other competent authority having jurisdiction in the premises, and the sale of gas to consumers shall be governed by the present operating rules, regulations and customs of Grantee and such rules and regulations as may hereafter be prescribed or approved.

SECTION 3. That in consideration of and as compensation for the right, privilege and franchise hereby granted, the Grantee, its successors and assigns, shall furnish gas at such pressure and of such quality as shall be designated by lawful orders of the Public Service Commission of said State, if such gas is reasonably procurable; shall furnish free of cost to each consumer a recognized standard meter or other instrument for measurement of gas sold or computation of consumer's bills and keep same in repair at its cost, which meter shall at all times be subject to inspection by said City; shall at all times save the City harmless from any and all damages which said City may be liable to pay that may arise from the construction, maintenance and operation of its plant system or any part thereof; shall limit all excavations of streets, alleys or public places to the necessity of efficient operation and shall not at any one time open or encumber more of any highway or public place than shall be reasonably necessary to enable Grantee to proceed with advantage in laying or repairing mains or pipes and shall not permit such highway or public place to remain open longer than necessary for the purpose for which it was opened; shall refill all excavations and replace all pavements with like materials and leave same in as good condition as when altered or removed; shall perform all work on streets, alleys and public places under supervision of a representative of the said City, if so desired; shall repay said City all expense to which it has been put in the repair or replacement of streets, highways or pavements in the event such work is done by said City after the neglect or refusal of Grantee to perform same in a reasonable time.

SECTION 4. Grantee shall not later than February 1 and August 1 respectively of each year make a report to the governing body of the City of Houstonia of its gross receipts from the sale of gas for domestic and commercial purposes within the corporate limits of said city for the six (6) months' period ending at the last meter reading preceding December 31 and June 30 respectively; and at the time of making such reports, pay into the city treasury a sum equal to five (5%) per cent of said gross receipts subject to the effective date of this franchise, which shall be charged to the operating expenses of the company. Domestic and commercial sales shall be considered as sales made other than on special contracts providing for stand-by fuel and interruption of service at any time demands of domestic and commercial consumers may so require. XXXI

PATIENCE finally heard a train rumbling down the tunnel.

"Oh. Roger, I thought one was never coming."

Roger said he too had been beginning to get anxious.

"You think we'll catch the 'plane now?"

He glanced at his watch, a frown wrinkling his brows.

"I hope so."

It was nearly 2:45 by the time they reached the hotel. In a moment they were in and out again with their cases and flinging them into a taxi. Charlotte and Dwight Breeden had, of course, gone on. The man at the reception desk had told them that as they'd dashed past him.

"Thank heaven, I paid my bill and packed this morning," said Roger. "I wonder if I dare tell this taximan to drive any faster?"

Patience gave a little shudder. Her nerves, she was finding, weren't quite what they had been since that lorry had come out of that side road so disastrously! In fact she was quite frankly terrified. As it was he seemed to be taking them along at a hair-raising speed.

"I think he's going as fast as he can," she said. And then suddenly something struck her. Something that she hadn't noticed before.

"Roger, what's happening to the weather?"

"It's not looking too good, is it?"

Dark clouds lay low in the sky. A gusty wind seemed to be rising.

"Flying won't be too pleasant, will it?" Patience said timorously.

"They won't take off if it's too bad."

She wondered which would be the lesser of two evils. And decided that if they could still catch the 'plane she'd rather risk the journey. The thought of not being there at the barrier to meet her aunts was even more frightening.

"What's the time, Roger?"

Roger's hand covered hers.

"Darling, you keep asking me that! It won't stand still, I'm afraid."

"I'm sorry. I just can't help it. Roger, supposing we do miss the 'plane?"

"Even if that happens the world wouldn't come to an end."

• • •

HOW could he be expected to understand how terribly important it was she should get there? It wouldn't matter to him, of course. He'd not got an Aunt Helen and an Aunt Alice waiting to meet him at the barrier in time to catch the 6:30.

But already above them a plane was circling in the sky. They could hear the roar of its engines. Patience leaned out of the window watching it, her heart full of misgiving.

The driver swung in through the wide gates. He brought his cab to a standstill. They dashed out and raced towards the tarmac. But there were only two 'planes there, and it was clear that neither was about to set out on a journey.

Roger looked around and found an official. He made swift inquiries. The 3 o'clock 'plane to London?

"It's just taken off, Monsieur."

"Oh, Roger, Roger, what shall I do?" gasped Patience.

"Is there another one?" asked Roger. "It's most important this young lady and I should get back. We had reservations on the 3 o'clock.

The man shook his head.

"I'm very sorry, Monsieur. That will, I'm afraid, be the last 'plane away today." He looked at the sky dolefully, and back again at Roger and gestured with his hands. "The weather. Our reports are not good. It may change, of course, but I do not think it is very like'--."

Patience's heart shook.

"Roger, we must get back," she said desperately.

Roger looked at the official.

"Is there any chance of hiring a private 'plane?"

Again the man shook his head. He was indeed very sorry. It was most unfortunate that they had not been there just a few minutes sooner.

• • •

ROGER put a hand on Patience's arm. "We'll have to go some other way, darling. Train and boat, I'm afraid, are our only hope."

"But it'll take so long."

Their taxi driver, they found, had been waiting to see what had happened.

"Take us to Cook's," said Roger. "We'll go straight to them and see which is the quickest route to take."

Patience sat back again in her corner. Her hands clenched and unclenched in her lap. She wished—oh, how much she wished it!—that she'd never agreed to come to Paris.

"Roger, what can we do?"

"Well, first we'll see just how soon we can get there."

"How soon do you think it'll be?"

"I'm afraid it'll mean traveling by night. Probably Le Havre to Southampton or the Newhaven-Dieppe route."

"And they take a long while."

"Quite a time."

"Oh Roger!"

Roger drew her hand through his arm. "Darling, don't worry too terribly. We'll get out of this all right. We'll wire Charlotte to the flat—she said she was going there before she went to the theater—and tell her to hold the fort as tactfully as possible if your aunts contact her. And once we're back—I know, I'll see them with you, and help you to explain what happened. I'll take all the blame." He smiled down at her reassuringly: "Darling, don't look so tragic. You wait till I tackle Aunt Helen and Aunt Alice—believe it or not I've got quite a way even with quite middle-aged women."

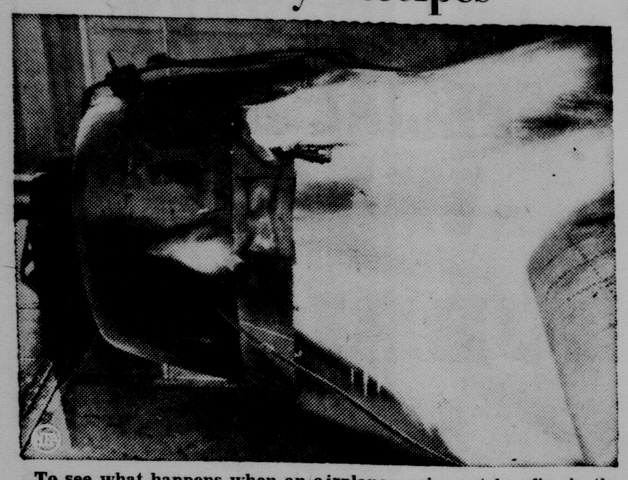
CAA Cooks Airplanes For New Safety Recipes



To see what happens when an airplane engine catches fire in the air, the CAA puts on this blazing show in its Technical Development Center laboratories at Indanapolis.

By NEA Service

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—(NEA)—"Try it and see" is the motto of the Technical Development Center operated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

CAA technicians shoot the carcasses of freshly-killed chickens at a real airplane windshield at speeds equal to an airplane's cruising speed.

They take a section of a wing and a real engine and set them afire under exact flight conditions.

To develop a fuel tank that will not rupture and burst into flame in a crash landing, they put tanks on a catapult and hurl them against a concrete wall while high-speed cameras grind to record the things the human eye can't see.

As a result, all new transport planes are being equipped with a windshield made of layers of glass and plastic which will withstand collision with a four-pound bird at normal cruising speeds.

It is believed that bird collisions have caused several major unexplained air accidents.

Several developments have resulted from the fire tests. CAA experts found that a fluid, developed by the Navy for use in hydraulic lines, will no burn when sprayed through a hot electric arc. They kept a section of a flexible hose at white heat for 10 hours, and determined that it could then safely be put back in a plane for service.

The fire tests discovered a coating for fabric-covered planes which will produce the taut surface required, but which will resist direct flame from an engine fire for the several minutes required to put out the fire. Standard testing methods for fire detectors and extinguishing agents were developed.

Mysterious fires in aircraft are always under study by CAA engineers at the Center. As a result they have made some unusual discoveries. They found that on the pressure side of the vacuum pump used to operate several devices on the planes, a clogged valve would build up enough pressure and temperature to cause fire inside the lines.

They also learned that an air fire burned through the skin of an integral wing tank in 30 seconds; such a tank would not explode, but the fuel would burn through the hole.

One of the most pressing needs of the aviation industry today in the field of flight safety, according to CAA engineers, is a lubricating oil that will not burn. Tests which they are now making here at the Center indicate this is a possibility. Accident reports show that about half the fires in flight are caused by oil that is only supposed to lubricate, not burn.

Tests showed that oil tanks did not burn through until they had been exposed for 20 minutes to hot flames, convincing the engineers that an oil tank anywhere in the engine installation if safe. Leaking oil causes the trouble.

As soon as these important discoveries are made CAA turns over the findings to the aircraft industry. As a result of work done at the Center it is believed that flying has been made a great deal safer for U. S. citizens.
